Dear Stakeholders,

Hope everyone is well. The public comment period for Draft NIST Interagency Report (IR) 8310 - Cybersecurity Framework Election Infrastructure Profile has closed and is now moving towards final publication.

As a follow on to NISTIR 8310, there is DRAFT NISTIR 8359 - Cybersecurity Framework Profile for Voter Registration. As was done with the previous profile, NISTIR 8359 will be shared with the group prior to releasing the document for public comment to get your input and feedback.

We would like to schedule a Working Group Call on August 27th at 1pm ET, to go over the following:

- a. Give an overview of the NISTIR 8310 public comments received and get your feedback/thoughts
- b. Provide a brief overview of NISTIR 8359 and share a pre-release draft for your review an input.

Allison -

I wanted to give you a heads up that we will be slightly modifying our information panel for election specific videos that link up to the Rumor Control page. As you are aware, the language currently states "Robust safeguards help ensure the integrity of elections and results. Learn more (link to Rumor Control)". We will modify this to now say "States certify results after ensuring ballots are properly counted and correcting irregularities and errors. Learn more (Source: CISA)" The plan is for the change to occur tomorrow, and I'll keep you updated if that is not the case. We really appreciate the opportunity to work closely with CISA and highlight the great work you do to secure the integrity of our nation's elections.

Hi Allison & (b)(6)

I reached out to Brian Scully today and received his out of office reply, which is why I'm contacting you today.

As you know, YouTube has worked closely with CISA to support the election over the last year and we also currently provide a link to CISA's "Rumor Control" website under all election related videos on our platform. I'm reaching out today because we are publishing a blog post next week to provide the public with an overview of our work in support of the 2020 election and, with your approval, plan to mention this information panel that was launched in the days following the election. More specifically, we would like to say

"We also showed information panels linking both to Google's election results feature, which sources election results from The Associated Press, and to the Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency's (CISA) "Rumor Control" page for debunking election integrity misinformation, alongside these and over 200.000 other election-related videos."

Would CISA have any objection to YouTube mentioning that we are linking out to the Rumor Control website in this blog? I hate to reach out so late on a Friday but we are hoping to get approval by COB today if possible.

Happy to discuss over the phone if helpful.

Best Regards,

Good Morning,

I am writing to let you know about an update to YouTube's policies pertaining to election-related misinformation and to offer a briefing about these updates.

Beginning today, we will prohibit content alleging that widespread fraud or errors changed the outcome in any past US Presidential election. For example, we will remove videos claiming that a presidential candidate won the election as a result of widespread software glitches or counting errors. Given that states' certification of election results show that Biden has won, and our policies relating to misinformation about past elections now apply to content about the US 2020 presidential election uploaded beginning December 9. We will not issue any strikes to channels for removals between now and January 20. From January 20 forward, channels will be eligible to receive strikes for violative content they upload to YouTube. You can read more about our 2020 US election efforts in our blog post here.

Hello,

I wanted to flag two tweets with possible misinformation about the election here in Washington state.

The first tweet is using falsified/photoshopped poll numbers to boost a particular candidate's write-in campaign. We don't have any results as of yet; ballots are not tabulated until after 8 p.m. election night. https://twitter.com/Way2ManyElles/status/1321155452000890880

The second tweet is misinformation because no ballots have been rejected yet. Good evening Matt,
I would like to report disinformation and threatening behavior related to the 2020 General Election for review/investigation. Please find attached screen shots from a Twitter account threatening of Dominion Voting Systems. The Clerk and Recorder from Chaffee Count is also tagged in one thread. Whoever set up this twitter account is obviously crazy and it has me concerned for $(b)(6)$ and staff.

Hi Brian,

Please let me know if I'm in the wrong place here. I'm trying to connect with the right person to introduce myself as part of the dedicated Account Team here at Google, supporting the CISA's mission.

Google is working across various Public Sector agencies to help scale their technology capabilities and empower teams to drive mission success by providing:

- Mature Data Infrastructure to leverage Smart Analytics
- o Hybrid Cloud/Multi Cloud
- Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning
- Fast and Secure Compute, Storage and Networking
- Transformative Collaboration and Productivity Tools

I'd love to get your thoughts on how Google can be a great partner in helping your team accelerate mission delivery and success.

What's a good time this week or next for a 15-minutes mutual discovery call? Best.

(b)(6) —good afternoon! Hope all is ok. Quick flag/time sensitive request.

We started paid search a few weeks ago. Goal was to ensure folks visited the Secretary of State's office for information on registering, voting—and results. The SOS is the trusted, official source. Wanted limit the chance folks looked at foreign disjon the electoral process.

We were also worried, based on FBI/CISA warnings, that the post-election timeframe could be a critical threat period, so we budgeted for/planned to run adds through at least mid-November to ensure folks continued to visit our site for reliable, accurate information. Google just turned off these adds, though. Can you help? We are not, not a campaign or a candidate—we are the official state of Colorado office responsible for administering elections, and we want to ensure Coloradans come to us for trusted information.

copied, who works for SRG, a communications firm we contracted with, helped place the adds. S he can answer questions on what happened, etc.

Let us know and of course, thanks,

Hi All,

Our post-election campaign was unfortunately automatically flagged and disapproved this morning as "US election ads" and we've been working with the teams to approve it. We've asked the search team to turn the pre-election keywords back live in the meantime.

If you have a rep that could help expedite the approval, please reach out. I'll keep pushing the team to solve this ASAP and I'll share an update as soon as I have it. We know how critical this time is.

Thanks, everyone. Appreciate the quick comms on this.

The account has been suspended. I'm not seeing signs that this is a foreign disinformation effort - to my eye, it looks a lot like either a commercially-motivated confidence scam, or an audience-building attempt by a domestic actor. It's still definitely fake and a violation of our rules - but not concerning beyond that.

Hi Matthew and Brian, hope you are well. Thanks for everything you guys are doing during such a crazy time.
P.C.
First, I would like to introduce you to my new colleagues, (b)(6) and (b)(6) They are recent additions to our public policy team and working on some of our joint issues. I will let them introduce themselves, but they are off to a strong start!! (b)(6) spent time in the Department during the last Administration, so she knows it well. And (b)(6) has already joined us for the elections call yesterday. I will still remain involved from the Legal side, so please keep including me in meetings and emails.

Second, we want to briefly update you on our forthcoming addition to our archive of state-linked information operations. Later today, we will announce the addition of sets tied to Iran and Russia.

Regarding Iran, we identified a network of primarily compromised accounts on Twitter operating from Iran. These accounts artificially amplified conversations on politically sensitive topics, including Black Lives Matter, the death of George Floyd, and other issues of racial and social justice in the United States.

In all, we suspended a total of 104 accounts connected with this campaign.

Additionally, in September, we announced we suspended a set of five Russian accounts following a tip from the FBI. Today we are publishing the information associated with the Russian accounts.

We are also releasing sets linked to Saudi Arabia, Cuba, and Thailand, but the activity of those accounts are not directed to the U.S.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

Thanks,

Masterson, Matthew (b)(6)

Hi (b)(6)

Nice to see your name again. And thank you for the list. I've passed it to the right teams. I hope you're doing well. The fires in Colorado look awful, we've had more than our fair share here, that's for sure.

Thanks, Brian. Appreciate it.

to meet you or maybe connect again! Think we chatted a few years back when I was in DC.

As you know, FBI/CISA are warning adversaries may attempt to undermine confidence in the process, particularly results. We are taking steps to mitigate this threat, to include identifying and when possible purchasing domains that could mimic official state/county/city sites to post fake results. We bought a bunch/'took them off the market'. But we could not buy all the ones we found concerning. We have a limited budget and in one case—the most concerning one—they owner was not willing to sell/would not respond to our request.

As such, want to ensure you all have the list of the remaining domains. Please note the attached. In particular, we are worried about GoVoteColorado.org. We could not nab it/they would not respond. And it is super close to our official site – GoVoteColorado.gov

Not exactly sure what you can do with these. But to the extent it is in line with policies, we would greatly appreciate you keeping an eye on them, letting us know if they start popping in searches, and maybe not having them hit high in search ques, to the extent permissible.

Please let us know if you have questions and thanks, (b)(6)From: Scully, Brian (b)(6) Sent: Friday, October 30, 2020 5:19 PM To: (b)(6) (b)(6) (b)(6)(b)(6)Subject: [EXTERNAL] Colorado and Google - Domain Names Hey (b)(6) I wanted to introduce you to (b)(6) (b)(6) at Google. You can send the list of domains to him to ensure it gets to the right folks at Google. (b)(6) is with the Colorado Secretary of State's office and made the request for a connection. Please let me know if I can be of further assistance. Thanks, Brian Hi (b)(6) is it possible to send out the invitation to the training for state and locals again? Our RSVPs are essentially non-existent.

State and Local Election Officials: Please join Twitter on Thursday, October 8 from 3:30 - 4:30 pm EST for a training on creative and effective content strategies on Twitter in advance of the U.S. Election. You will hear the latest on product updates, best practices, and strategy for creating engaging content! Time for Q&A will be reserved at the end. RSVP here: https://trainingforuselectionpartners.splashthat.com/

(2) We are onboarding state and local election officials onto Twitter's Partner Support Portal.  The Partner Support Portal is a dedicated way for critical stakeholders like you to flag concerns directly to Twitter. These concerns can include technical issues with your account and content on the platform that may violate our policies. Email (b)(6) to Please forgive for the delayed response. Typically, with private sector partners we would feature new initiatives in our weekly news alert (Wednesday afternoons) with a one paragraph summary. We typically link to some sort of public reporting, whether you have a release on PSP or a page where you've been directing sign-ups that we can point folks to. With regards to the training, we have an "upcoming events" section in the same product that we can include links for signup/webinar location or an email to contact.

Long lost friends, how are you? Hope you got in a few quick breaks this August.
Do you have contact information for the team at the EI-ISAC? We want to send a message to state and local election officials inviting them: (1) to be onboarded to the Partner Support Portal (previously this was reserved only for state-level; we are now expanding for locals) and (2) a training for best-practices on creating credible and engaging content.  Any other issues we should be connecting on?
Thanks, (b)(6)

Thinking of you and your family. Here is some info I just pulled together from the Rules and a place to report:

RELEVANT TWITTER POLICIES

Impersonation is a violation of the Twitter Rules. Twitter accounts that pose as another person, brand, or organization in a confusing or deceptive manner may be permanently suspended under Twitter's impersonation policy.

Accounts with similar usernames or that are similar in appearance (e.g., the same profile image) are not automatically in violation of the impersonation policy. In order to violate our impersonation policy, the account must portray another entity in a misleading or deceptive manner.

Twitter users are allowed to create parody, newsfeed, commentary, or fan accounts. Please refer to Twitter's parody, newsfeed, commentary, and fan account policy for more information about these types of accounts.

For more information, please see our impersonation policy.

If you see suspicious activity, please file a report at https://help.twitter.com/forms/impersonation

It would be great if they file a report first because it helps me if it is escalated through another route.

Thanks,

Hi (b)(6)

Wanted to share the below and attached with you. These are threats to a Dominion employee in comments to an IT-ISAC video on You rube. I've attached edited screenshots with the specific comments (had to remove non-threatening comments from the screenshot). As an FYI, I've also shared with the FBI.

Regards,

Brian

We've received some additional threatening comments related to Dominion. They are not directed at us, but rather a specific employee. I know we sent a couple to you previously that you passed along. Who do you suggest I send these to?

Specifically concerning are the last one on image 185 and the first one on image 182.

There are two reports in this email chain. One of Facebook posts with videos the State believes are false. That was the basis of the FYI for another group of folks. The specific report we are sharing with you all is the most recent link to a Twitter post. The FYI does not apply to the Twitter portion of the chain (unless I'm misreading things, which in my current state is possible). We are not allowed to edit the reporting emails, so it creates some challenges for us when we're forwarding such reports.

On the video's authenticity, PA states in the very first email that they believe the video's are false. We are reaching out to partners to validate. Not sure we'll be able to get a validation, but can certainly pass along anything we get back.

Not sure this is helpful, so happy to chat if you'd like.

FYI only at this point

Matt,

Sorry to message late, but was going through the dos page and comments (old habits from EAC die hard) and came across these posts. Sorry to screenshot, but if you go to our page you should be able to see the comments on the post and go to the pages.

Are these making their way around the internet? Because there is no polling place I know of that has overhead cameras. Just don't want another "burning ballots" fake thing spreading.

Apologies for sending to you all first, but I didn't want to call an all hands meeting here when some of our folks are getting their first few real hours rest since Monday.

Of specific concern to the Secretary of State are the following tweets:

https://twitter.com/normal_every/status/1346451683384160257

https://twitter.com/normal_every/status/1346233687160008704

Reason: These messages falsely assert that the Voter Registration System is owned and therefore operated by foreign actors.

This is an attempt to further undermine confidence in the election institution in Arizona.

Thank you for your consideration in reviewing this matter for action.

Sincerely,

Matt,

Can you assist with flagging this election disinformation content? It's patently false. Dominion has no server in Germany, and you should be able to confirm with DOD that this is untrue. Looks like it's recycling old viral claims and/or newer false claims posted to a disinformation website called thedonald.win, which we have also reported. Since the thread claims this is an Amazon server and it looks like others are saying this, you should be able to check with them to confirm this is fake news as well. Thanks.

YouTube has an election results info panel, which is displayed below YouTube videos about the election results and links viewers to Google's election results feature with current results from the AP. We plan to update this soon to also include a link to CISA's rumor control page. This change will help provide YouTube viewers with access to both authoritative election results, and the timely information about voting processes and integrity on the CISA site.

YouTube plans to launch this update as early as tonight. For your information, below are mocks of both the version of the info panel (the blue box) that will be displayed prior to the election being called and the version of the info panel that will be displayed after the AP calls the election. CISA would not be referenced in the info panel itself, but the "Learn More" link at the bottom of the blue panel would link to the CISA site.

If you think this is going to be an issue for you, please let us know as soon as possible.

I wanted to share a report we received about a misleading website from an election official to see if this might be within bounds for Google Safe Browsing. The website's domain, govoteky.us, is similar to the official Kentucky election domain, govoteky.com, and the website collects personal data from voters. Facebook and Twitter have both taken down the account and blocked the site.

See the report from the election official below.

Thank you,

The certificate is for citywide observation, but the law requires specific polling place assignments. I will email you the poll watcher guide separately because it's on my phone.

Hi Brian -

YouTube is going to be publishing a blog post next week discussing some of our overall election work and in it when we are planning on mentioning that we have an information panel that links to the "Rumor Control" page from CISA. More specifically, we plan to say

"We also showed information panels linking both to Google's election results feature, which sources election results from The Associated Press, and to the Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency's (CISA) "Rumor Control" page for debunking election integrity misinformation, alongside these and over 200,000 other election-related videos."

Would CISA have any objection to mentioning that we are linking out to the Rumor Control website in this blog?

Happy to discuss over the phone if helpful.

Thanks,

GUIDANCE CONCERNING POLL WATCHERS AND AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVES

Version: 1.1

1 BACKGROUND

This guidance addresses the role of poll watchers at polling places, and the role of authorized representatives at the pre-canvass and canvass of ballots.

2 POLL WATCHER QUALIFICATIONS

To be a poll watcher, a person must be a qualified registered elector of the county in which the election district for which the watcher is to be appointed is located. Poll watchers must be identified and must receive official county credentials in advance and must be assigned to specific precincts. When a poll watcher is not serving in the election district for which the poll watcher was appointed, he or she may serve in any other election district in the same county in which the poll watcher is a qualified registered elector.

Each poll watcher must be provided with a certificate from the County Board of Elections, which states the poll watcher's name and the name of the candidate, party, or political body he or she represents. Poll watchers are required to show their certificates when requested to do so. If a poll watcher loses his or her certificate or if the certificate is destroyed, the poll watcher may appear before the Court of Common Pleas on election day and after swearing an oath or affirmation may immediately receive a replacement watcher's certificate issued by the Court.

Individuals may not serve as poll watchers except as specifically described above.

3 Poll Watchers At The Polling Place

What poll watchers CAN do at the polling place

Each candidate may appoint two poll watchers for each election district in which he or she appears on the ballot. Each political party and political body which has nominated candidates on the ballot may appoint three poll watchers for each election district at any general, municipal or special election in which the candidates of such party or body are on the ballot. However, only one poll watcher may be present in the polling place at one time for each candidate at primaries or for each candidate, party, or political body during general, municipal or special elections, from the time election officers meet prior to the opening of the polls until the time that the counting of votes is complete. It is also important to note that all poll watchers must remain outside the enclosed space.

Watchers allowed in the polling place are permitted to keep a list of voters. Watchers may make good faith challenges to an elector's identity, continued residence in the election district, or qualifications as an eligible voter. Poll watchers should direct permitted challenges directly to the Judge of Elections. The Judge of Elections has the obligation to determine if the challenge is based on actual evidence and whether there is a good faith basis to believe that the person is not or may not be a qualified elector. Challenges cannot be based on race, national origin, appearance, surname, language, religion or other characteristic not relevant to the qualifications to vote. The race, ethnicity, national origin, language, and religion of a person presenting themselves to vote are not sufficient bases for mounting a challenge. Discriminatory challenges that interfere with the free exercise of the elective franchise are unlawful under Pennsylvania law.

The Judge of Elections must not permit routine or frivolous challenges that are not supported by a stated good faith basis and evidence that a person is or may not be eligible. Challenges may not be affirmed and voters may not be refused a ballot unless the election officers of the precinct are satisfied that the challenger has proven the voter's ineligibility on proper grounds and with sufficient evidence. The elected officers of the precinct (Judge of Elections, Majority and Minority Inspectors) have the responsibility of determining the qualifications of the person presenting themselves to vote. In the event of disagreement, the Judge of Elections decides.

Only when voters are not present in the polling place either voting or waiting to vote, the Judge of Elections shall allow poll watchers to inspect the voting check list and the numbered lists of voters maintained by the County Board of Elections. Poll watchers may not mark upon or alter any official election records. The Judge of Elections shall supervise or delegate supervision to other poll workers over a poll watcher's inspection of these documents.

What watchers CANNOT do at the polling place

Poll watchers must remain a safe and respectful distance away from the space where voting is occurring. Poll watchers may not engage, attempt to influence, or intimidate voters or otherwise interfere with or impinge on the orderly process of voting. Social distancing measures should be maintained to ensure a safe polling place for voters and poll workers.

Voter intimidation and threatening conduct are illegal under federal and Pennsylvania law. Any activity by a poll watcher that threatens, harasses, or intimidates voters, including any activity that is intended to, or has the effect of, interfering with any voter's right to vote, whether it occurs outside the polling place or inside the polling place, is illegal.

Examples of voter intimidation include, but are not limited to:

- Photographing or videotaping voters
- Disseminating false or misleading election information to voters
- Blocking the entrance to a polling place
- Confronting, hovering, or directly speaking to or questioning voters
- Any threatening behavior
- Asking voters for documentation

Poll watchers are also NOT allowed to engage in electioneering while inside the polling place or within 10 feet of the entrance to the polling place. Though watchers are representatives of candidates or political parties and political bodies, they are not entitled to electioneer on behalf of their candidate, political party, or political body while inside the polling place. Electioneering includes soliciting votes, posting or displaying written or printed campaign materials, and handing out pamphlets or other campaign paraphernalia.

Poll watchers must follow the requirements of the Department of Health's Universal Face Covering Order at all times while within the polling place, unless they fit one of the exceptions included in Section 3 of the Order.

- Any poll watcher refusing to wear a face covering shall be asked to leave the polling place by the Judge of Elections in that polling place.
- County Election officials will notify the candidate, party or political body whom the poll watcher represents if the individual is asked to leave a polling place for violating masking orders or health and safety protocols. The candidate, party, or political body will have an opportunity to replace the removed watcher with one with a face covering.

Poll watchers must maintain social distancing practices and ensure they are at least 6 feet from others at all times.

Poll watchers must follow county and poll worker instructions regarding health and safety protocols in the polling place.

While the Judge of Elections at the polling place may not deter or interfere with a duly appointed watcher who is exercising her or his privileges as a watcher, the Judge of Elections is obligated to remove a watcher who is engaging in activities that are prohibited, including those referenced in this section.

The Judge of Elections has a duty to maintain order and ensure that the rules are being followed at the polling place. A Judge of Elections may call upon a constable, deputy constable, police officer or other peace officer to aid in maintaining order.

After the voting is complete, poll watchers may remain in the polling place, but outside the enclosed space where ballots are being counted and voting machines are being canvassed.

4 AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVES AT THE PRE-CANVASS AND CANVASS

The 2019 amendments to the Election Code expressly specify that one authorized representative for each candidate and one authorized representative for each political party must be permitted to remain in the room at the county election board where the pre-canvass and canvass meetings occur.

Authorized representatives are permitted to be present when envelopes containing official absentee ballots and mail-in ballots are opened and when such ballots are counted and recorded. This includes both the pre-canvass and canvass.

Authorized representatives (which includes poll watchers that have been designated by a candidate or political party to serve as authorized representatives during the pre-canvass or canvass) may not challenge an absentee or mail-in ballot during the pre-canvass or canvass of the ballots. Absentee and mail-in ballot applications may only be challenged prior to 5:00 pm on the Friday prior to the election, and only on good faith grounds that the applicant was not a qualified elector. No other challenges are permitted. Authorized representatives may not engage in, attempt to intimidate, nor interfere with the pre-canvass or canvass of the absentee and mail-in ballots. Challenges to mail-in or absentee ballots, based on signature analysis, are not permitted at any time.

Persons observing, attending, or participating in the pre-canvas meeting ARE PROHIBITED from disclosing the result of any portion of the pre-canvass prior to the close of the polls on election day.

Authorized representatives may not interfere with, hinder, or unlawfully delay a district election board or the County Board of Elections in the conduct of its duties. It is likewise a violation of Pennsylvania law to interrupt or improperly interfere with any election officer in the execution of his or her duties.

Authorized representatives must follow the requirements of the Department of Health's Universal Face Covering Order at all times while within locations where the pre-canvass and canvass of ballots is occurring, unless they fit one of the exceptions included in Section 3 of the Order.

- Any authorized representative refusing to wear a face covering shall be asked to leave the precanvass or canvass meeting by the election officials.
- County Election officials will notify the candidate, party or political body whom the representative represents if the individual is asked to leave a pre-canvassing or canvassing meeting for violating masking orders or health and safety protocols. The candidate, party, or political body will have an opportunity to replace the removed representative with one with a face covering.

Authorized representatives must maintain social distancing practices and ensure they are at least 6 feet from others at all times.

Authorized representatives must follow county instructions regarding health and safety protocols in the facility.

5 COUNTY ELECTION OFFICES, SATELLITE OFFICES, AND BALLOT RETURN SITES

Poll watchers and authorized representatives have no legal right to observe or be present at county election offices, satellite offices or designated ballot return sites, except to vote their own ballot or to perform personal tasks expressly permitted by the Election Code.

The certificate is for citywide observation, but the law requires specific polling place assignments. I will email you the poll watcher guide separately because it's on my phone.

Thanks Brian. That's helpful. They can send the list over to me if they'd like and I'll get it in the right hands. If they need to give us more context, either I can take the call or I'll find an alternate. It may be that we don't need to take the time of the secretary of state's office.

Hi Brian, I have been in touch with the FBI and the Minneapolis Police Department directly.

Our enforcement teams reviewed the Tweets and the report. The content of the Tweets do not violate our private information policy or our abusive behavior policy.

We also reviewed the account itself and it is not in violation of our policies on platform manipulation or ban evasion.

I asked the MPD to please continue to raise any additional content you see that may violate our policies and we will review right away.

Thank you,

Hi Matt,  Here is the video:  https://youtu.be/E9mmENG7qb8
Here is the video:
https://youtu.be/E9mmENG7qb8
There is no record of $a^{(b)(6)}$ registered in our county. There are three people registered to vote at $a^{(b)(6)}$ house: $a^{(b)(6)}$ and, I believe, her parents.
I sent (b)(6) and (b)(6) an email and asked that they contact me. Like all elections officials, we take every allegation of voter fraud very seriously and I was seeking more information so I could forward the case to our District Attorney to investigate. (b)(6) responded letting me know she did not trust me or anyone in my office and she has forwarded her case to the Supreme Court and the sitting president. I have not heard from (b)(6) so I attempted to call her. She has not responded.
I spoke to one of the leads at the Boulder Creek Recreation Hall where (b)(6) voted on Oct. 31. There is absolutely no way she looked up the registration of her dog. There is no printed list. The only access is through a laptop that is connected to our election information management system. The laptop is staffed by a sworn local elections official. The system only allows them to look up a voter by their name, address, driver's license, or date of birth. Social security number is not available as a look-up field.

I also followed up with our county Sheriff, police department, Animal Control, and Cabrillo College. All of (b)(6) claims about registering her dog as a service animal are false. In addition, she is no longer a student at Cabrillo College.
Also, when someone is registered to vote and provides a social security number, it is verified through the Social Services Administration.
And, both (b)(6) and (b)(6) voted and we counted their vote.
We are getting a lot of calls and emails on this video. I sent it to my DA to investigate. Bottom line, it is a bunch of lies aimed at destroying people's faith in the intergrity of our local elections I'm not sure what can be done about this, but I would hope there is some way to make these folks accountable.

I&A is going to send me some times they are available to provide a briefing. I'll pass those along as soon as I receive. If there are specific times that work best for you all, please let me know. I did have two follow-up questions for you:

- 1. What Security Clearance level are you all at? I'm assuming you want a classified brief if possible.
- 2. Do you want a look at both online threats and offline manifestation of those online threats or just one or the other?

Hey Brian,

Sorry about the slow response - another crazy morning.

We've been tracking the Hammer/Scorecard issue closely, particularly since Director Krebs's tweet on the subject (which was pretty unambiguous as debunks go). We broadly labeled the conspiracy theory several days ago, pursuant to our policies. Once we enabled labeling, though, a 4chan-driven troll campaign kicked off, trying to reverse engineer our labeling logic and get labels to show up on unrelated tweets... which led to us turning off the automated labeling. We're going to backfill labels in bulk today for the period the automated labeling was disabled, but unfortunately we're in a bit of a cat-and-mouse situation where our ability to mitigate the conspiracy is tangled up in a clear attempt to work the ref by gaming our enforcements.

Let us know if there are especially high-profile examples of tweets sharing the conspiracy that haven't been labeled - we've been manually monitoring high-profile examples even once we disabled the automation, but it could be some slipped through the cracks.

Thanks,  b)(6

Would 2:30 to speak to Geoff tomorrow work for you. I will see if my colleagues can join, but Twitter gave people the day off tomorrow (although I am most certainly working)!

Want to talk at 3pm tomorrow about the NSC? Cannot wait to hear about it!

Thanks,

Hey (b)(6)

Wanted to see if you might have some time tomorrow for a quick call. I'd like to formally introduce you to Geoff Hale. Geoff will be leading the Elections work with Matt's departure and I want to make sure you all (and anyone else you think appropriate from Twitter) have the chance to chat.

I also want to let you know I've accepted a detail position at the NSC working on disinfo. No date for my departure from CISA yet, but I expect to be starting in the next week or two. If you have some time, would love to get your thoughts on how to be successful at the NSC based on your experience. I know you're probably crushed right now, so appreciate any time you can be available. This move is also not widely known, so please don't share with others.

Thanks, Brian

Hi Chris,

I hope you're well.

YouTube has an election results info panel, which is displayed below YouTube videos about the election results and links viewers to Google's election results feature with current results from the AP. We plan to update this soon to also include a link to CISA's rumor control page. This change will help provide YouTube viewers with access to both authoritative election results, and the timely information about voting processes and integrity on the CISA site.

YouTube plans to launch this update as early as tonight. For your information, below are mocks of both the version of the info panel (the blue box) that will be displayed prior to the election being called and the version of the info panel that will be displayed after the AP calls the election. CISA would not be referenced in the info panel itself, but the "Learn More" link at the bottom of the blue panel would link to the CISA site.

If you think this is going to be an issue for you, please let us know as soon as possible.

Hi Brian, please share the info, although hopefully they already got it from the FBI! That is what I had assumed but will make sure to connect with you directly going forward.

Yes, please put me in touch with the I&A team for scheduling.

Also happy to be connected with your NCSC colleague.

Thanks again, and talk soon

Hi Brian, I want to check in and send along some information in advance of the briefing. Really appreciate your help in finding a good time.

We have two summaries of our work over the last week: this information regarding our recent efforts since the attack and information we released regarding our decision to suspend @realDonaldTrump.

Following the attack on the Capitol, we began to see posts on and off-platform, including this site, references on Parler, and the attached image of a January 17 armed march, which we have removed from Twitter. We continue to monitor for additional conversations, like numerous recent mentions of Million Militia March on Parler and other fringe sites.

We are receiving a briefing from the FBI on these kinds of threats this week, we appreciate all your help to schedule a briefing with the right teams at DHS.

We appreciate our ongoing dialogue with the Department, and look forward to sharing more information as we go forward.

Thanks,

Hi Brian, sorry for my delay in responding.

We will prioritize scheduling the briefing and try to accommodate your schedule. Do you and the team have availability on Thursday afternoon?

We had temporary clearances for the 30 around the election, but I believe they have expired. Do the briefest think we can have a meaningful conversation on the unclassified side? (Might also be difficult to conduct since we are all remote.)

Please connect me to the ODNI NCSC — thank you!

We are eager to receive a briefing on any topics that might be relevant to Twitter or the conversation last that might occur on the platform. I will send you some of the information we have removed for your your awareness a little later tonight.

Thanks so much, I really appreciate all your assistance today and throughout the election season.

Thanks,

On a separate note, I had a colleague at ODNI's NCSC (Counterintelligence office) ask to be connected with you all. Any issue with me providing an email introduction?

Thanks, Brian
