INTERVIEW OF THE PRESIDENT
AND THE FIRST LADY
BY OPRAH WINFREY

Harpo Studios
Chicago, Illinois

12:05 P.M. CDT

Q Hi.

THE PRESIDENT: Hi.

Q Welcome.

MRS. OBAMA: Hello.

THE PRESIDENT: It's so nice to be here. She's been having all the fun coming here, so I said I'm going to crash the party, too. (Laughter.)

Q You know what, the truth is I was just -- my team was just looking to get you all to do like the little videotape message. (Laughter.) And the fact that you all said you would be willing to come, it's such an honor for me and everybody who works here. Thank you so much. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Well, we are thrilled to be here. It's always nice to find an excuse to come home.

Q Does it still feel like home, or does it feel like the place you used to live?

THE PRESIDENT: No, it still feels like home. Our closest friends are here.

MRS. OBAMA: Our family is here.

THE PRESIDENT: Our family is here. Our house is here. (Laughter.) My house is very clean because -- (laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: There's no one in there.

Q So when you -- will you go to the house today?

MRS. OBAMA: Not today.

Q You won't go by the house?

MRS. OBAMA: Well, I'm going to try to get back in time for dinner with the girls. There's an expectation.

Q Yes.

MRS. OBAMA: And he's got other stuff to do. (Laughter.)

Q Other things to do.

MRS. OBAMA: But I don't know what it is.

Q When you're flying in, though, does it feel like, oh, we're going home?

MRS. OBAMA: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: It does.

MRS. OBAMA: Well, a little bit. I mean, we do fly in here and helo to --

THE PRESIDENT: It's a little different.

Q Yes, a little different.

THE PRESIDENT: We haven't been stuck on the Dan Ryan for a few hours. (Laughter.)
On the Kennedy coming in, but --

MRS. OBAMA: But it is fun to fly over the skyline and --

Q But still, don't you think it's still one of the prettiest skylines in the world?

THE PRESIDENT: Greatest city in the world. Greatest city in the world. (Applause.)

Q I think so, too.

MRS. OBAMA: And clean --

Q And so clean.

MRS. OBAMA: And so clean.

Q And before you came today you had a press conference --

THE PRESIDENT: I did.

Q By the time this airs it will be all over the world that you outed the birth certificate, you let us see the birth certificate. (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: He was born here. (Laughter.)

Q And it's confirmed again that you were born --

THE PRESIDENT: Once again.

Q -- once again, in the United States. (Laughter and applause.) Why did you wait so long, though?

THE PRESIDENT: Keep in mind what had happened. This came up about two --

MRS. OBAMA: Two and a half years ago.

THE PRESIDENT: -- two and a half years ago. And so we called up the folks in Hawaii and the Department of Health --

Q When it first came up were you thinking, I hope I was born here? (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: Can I just say I was there -- (laughter) -- so I knew that -- I knew I had been born there. I remembered it. (Laughter.)

Q Of course you did. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: Well, the interesting thing is I grew up like a block and a half from the hospital where I was born. And I -- all through high school I'd walk by the hospital every day on my way to school. So it --

Q And your grandparents would say, this is the hospital where you were born.

THE PRESIDENT: So it came up two and a half years ago, and I didn't take it very seriously. I thought, well, this is kind of a silly thing. But we still posted what the state of Hawaii provides, which is a certification of live birth. It's essentially a copy of the actual birth certificate. And we posted that and we explained how there were a birth announcement in the Honolulu Advertiser back in 1961. And it seemed unlikely that my 18-year-old mother had plotted at the time -- (laughter) -- saying, you know what, he's going to be President so let's -- (laughter) -- let's pay off the newspapers. (Laughter.)

So we assumed that this would just --

Q Go away.

THE PRESIDENT: -- kind of go away. But it kept on building and I was amused by it and we would joke about it --

MRS. OBAMA: I wasn't.

THE PRESIDENT: She wasn't.

Q You weren't amused by it. What were you saying about it?

MRS. OBAMA: It's ridiculous.

Q Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: So, the bottom line is this, though. Two weeks ago, a huge debate was initiated around where our budget needs to go. We've got some serious decisions to make about how do we bring our deficit down and our debt down, but do it in a way that preserves what makes America great: our investments in education, our investments in infrastructure, our investments in basic research, making sure that we've got a strong safety net for our seniors. And during the course of this major debate, where I gave a big speech and the Republicans voted on their proposal, the biggest news was this birth certificate thing.

Q Birth certificate.

THE PRESIDENT: And so at that point I said to my team, look, even though this is not usually what the state of Hawaii does, even though the Republican governor of Hawaii, the Democratic governors of Hawaii, all the various officials had confirmed that I was born here, let's ask them for a special dispensation where they will go ahead and provide us with the original to see if we can put this to rest.

And my general point is this. We are living in a very serious time and America has huge potential and opportunity to seize the 21st century. We're only going to get there, though, if we have a serious conversation about the things that matter to people -- jobs and gas prices and how do we bring down the deficit and how do we deal with all the changes going around the world. And we can't be distracted by sideshows and, as I said at my press conference, carnival barkers who are going around trying to get attention, instead of our -- (applause.)

Q Do you think that there is a disconnection in general in terms of sideshows and carnival barkers? I ask that of both of you.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, I think what's happened is that the line between entertainment and politics has blurred so that --

Q We see it on the evening news.

MRS. OBAMA: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, and so reality TV is seeping into how we think about our politics. And when I am reading letters at night about families who are at risk of losing their homes, or describing to me what it's like when you send out 16 resumes and you're not getting a resume back and you're trying to figure out how to pay your bills, or young people who are talking about how can I afford to get a college education -- that's not -- it's not entertainment, it's not reality TV. That's real. And that's what we have to spend some time about.

Q You know, during the civil rights movement, I remember, there was this wonderful documentary called "Eyes on the Prize," and there was a phrase where we talked often about keeping our eyes on the prize. Do you think that the American people have lost a sense of what the prize is, and therefore lost our focus?

THE PRESIDENT: I don't think that the American people have lost their sense of what the prize is. They understand the prize is family, community, responsibility, looking after each other, working hard to achieve the American Dream. They live that every single day. I mean, there are people all across the country, all they're doing is waking up and doing the right thing. But in terms of our collective political conversation, I think we get distracted all the time.

Q I'm asking that question because of your comment about the carnival barkers and the sideshows and how every night on the news, or 24/7, we're constantly fed this information that allows people to be distracted.

You sense it also.

MRS. OBAMA: Yes, but I think I'm --- probably like more Americans, I tend to turn it off. Because when you're trying to look for serious information and you can't get it in your evening news or in your paper, you just go elsewhere. You just turn it off.

And the thing that I always loved about my husband is that he's always been the person that can keep his eye on the prize in the midst of some craziness. And I think that's what makes him a special leader. I mean, he will take a bullet in the near term because he sees what we need to do down the line.

And that's what makes a country great. It's the investment, the short-term investments that bear long-term fruit. And that's -- those are the decisions that he's been making every single day. And it doesn't always feel good -- right? (Applause.)

Q No, it doesn't feel good all the time, but I have to say --

THE PRESIDENT: Let me just say when she said I'd take a bullet, I don't want Secret Service to get -- (laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: Oh, yes.

Q When she said that, I thought that --

MRS. OBAMA: No, no, no.

THE PRESIDENT: Joe is back there, my --

MRS. OBAMA: Head man.

THE PRESIDENT: The head of my detail. He's not smiling. (Laughter.)

Q Metaphorically -- you meant metaphorically.

MRS. OBAMA: Thank you for clearing that up.

Q You know, I woke up this morning, I was thinking -- first of all, excited that you were coming. And I was thinking about every human being wakes up on the planet with the hope for that day to have as few problems as possible. You don't get that -- that you wake up and all of our problems become your problems. How do you compartmentalize and categorize them in such a way that you can carry that burden? Because you still are, first and foremost, a human being who has this role that we elected to as President of the United States. But how do you do that?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, first of all, I think it's important to remember that I'm not there alone.

Q Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: I mean, I've got this incredible staff, an incredible Cabinet. You've got people who don't get any notice, they don't get any publicity, who do great work, making sure our veterans are getting care; making sure that the troops under their command are safe and well equipped; making sure that a senior is getting their Social Security check. So there's a bunch of people in our government who are, every day, thinking how do we do a good job on behalf of our customers, the American people. And I don't think they get enough credit.

Q That's right, we're your customers.

THE PRESIDENT: That's right. And our bosses. And they take that very seriously. And I'm always struck by the disconnect between the perception of government, which is the faceless bureaucrats and people who somehow don't care, and the reality when you meet folks who -- these are people who are working so hard to just try to make the country better.

And so that inspires me. The American people inspire me. And so every day when I get a chance to meet them, talk to them, hear from them, they remind me of why I got into this. Because I'm their advocate; my job is to try to figure out how can in some small measure I make the chances for them to succeed and achieve their dreams a little bit better.

Q But the truth is you --

THE PRESIDENT: And then I pray a lot.

Q You pray -- do you pray?

THE PRESIDENT: I do.

Q Like on your knees pray?

THE PRESIDENT: Sometimes. Abraham Lincoln said if you weren't praying before you were President -- (laughter and applause.)

Q It will make a believer and prayer out of you, right? Yes.

You know I have this whole ritual where I like have a prayer and meditation. Do you have like a ritual about it?

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, but I'm not going to tell all of you about it. (Laughter.)

Q You don't have to.

Do you pray?

MRS. OBAMA: Yes, we do. We do every day. We pray before our meals. We're trying to get the girls into good habits of being thankful and grateful. So we try to give back what we get because we know that there are a whole lot of people praying for us. That we know. Everywhere we go, we know. (Applause.)

Q Absolutely. But back to the question of how you prioritize, because you don't -- because you are President, you don't wake up without problems.

THE PRESIDENT: No. Well, typically my day starts -- I'll have a briefing, and it's just on national security issues. So if there are any threats that have come up in the intelligence, what's happening in Afghanistan, what's happening around the world --

MRS. OBAMA: So that's how he starts his day. Yay. (Laughter.) That and some eggs. (Laughter.)

Q That and some eggs.

MRS. OBAMA: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: So typically that shapes the morning initially. And then --

Q So keeping the country safe is the first priority?

THE PRESIDENT: First priority is keeping the country safe. Typically then I will be spending a lot of time thinking about what's happening in the economy today and where are we at in terms of the initiatives that we think can create jobs, keep economic growth going, and make sure that we are -- as Michelle said, keeping our eye on sort of some long-term targets.

Education is a good example. We know that the countries that educate their children most effectively are going to be the most successful in the 21st century.

Q So are you worried about us?

THE PRESIDENT: I am both worried and hopeful. I'm worried that we don't have as much of a sense of urgency about education as we need to, that we've fallen behind more than we should have, but I'm hopeful --

Q When you see us ranking with other countries, 27 in math and --

THE PRESIDENT: We rank among developed countries, we are falling behind in math and science. Fortunately, I've got a great Secretary of Education, Arne Duncan, who comes from Chicago, and he has done great work with something we call Race to the Top that has challenged states and school districts around the country, saying, we'll give you a little extra money if you put in place the kinds of reforms -- getting the best teachers in the classroom; making sure that everybody is held accountable; raising standards. And so what we've seen is already significant improvement.

But I just use that as an example of how I'll think about my day. I will be saying to my Chief of Staff and the rest of my team, how are we doing on that? We need to pass legislation to potentially lock in some of these additional reforms. We need support from Democrats. We need support from Republicans. How are we getting that moving?

Q And that's all before lunch?

THE PRESIDENT: That's before lunch, yes. And then, look, things come up. Right now gas prices are on everybody's mind. Now, that's a short-term problem for ordinary families.

Q $4.59!

THE PRESIDENT: Unbelievable.

Q Unbelievable.

THE PRESIDENT: And I've said, it hasn't been that long since we had to fill up. They don't let me pump gas anymore. (Laughter.)

Q Do you miss it?

THE PRESIDENT: I do -- pulling up to the station and --

Q Talking to the fellows.

THE PRESIDENT: Talking to folks. Yes. So I can't do that, but, look, there are families across the country who -- they've got to drive 50 miles to get to their job and they just see that money bleeding away from them.

So this is a good example of where we have to think short term: How can we provide folks immediate relief? Do I have to call the Saudis and see if they can ramp up production? Are we making sure that we are doing everything we can internally to prevent price gouging? Can we eliminate some subsidies that are going to oil companies that are making out like bandits right now in order to fund some renewable energy efforts?

Q But gas prices go up, your polls go down.

THE PRESIDENT: They do. But what I also have to think about is long term: How do we make sure that we start investing in electric cars, raise fuel efficiency standards; figure out how if Brazil is able to get a third of its cars running on biofuels, why can't we? If China is able to build high-speed rail, why can't we?

Q Why can't we? Is it the way we think about it? Do we need to change the way we think about it?

THE PRESIDENT: I think that we get into habits -- countries are just like people -- we get into habits. Some of them are good, some of them are bad, and change is hard. Remember our slogan was: Change we can believe in. Everybody liked the slogan. It turns out change is a little harder than people maybe anticipated. (Laughter.)

Q People like the idea, but when it comes time to actually do it --

THE PRESIDENT: Because it's hard to change some of our habits. And so I guess during the course of my day I've got immediate problems, but I also then have long-term problems. And Michelle is right when she says part of my job is making sure that we don't lose sight of where we need to be 10 years from now, because of -- because we're so focused on what's in front of us --

MRS. OBAMA: Well, and I think that's where the poll numbers -- you can't focus on the poll numbers today, because sometimes he has to make hard decisions that will affect his polls today, but it will be the best thing for our country, for our kids. That's what his job is. And I like the fact that he doesn't sway from one issue to the next because of what the polls say.

Q Do you wish you had started with the economy and not with health care, if you had to do it over?

THE PRESIDENT: Well keep in -- Oprah, I've got to tell you, we did start with the economy. Remember the first thing we did was pass a Recovery Act that cut --

Q Kept us from being in the breadlines.

THE PRESIDENT: It kept us from going into a Great Depression; that cut taxes for 95 percent of Americans. It provided states with the assistance they needed to prevent layoffs of teachers and firefighters and police officers. And then we also put people to work, rebuilding our roads and our bridges all across the country. So that was our first priority, along with making sure that the financial system didn't melt down.

It was only after we had stabilized the economy, that it wasn't in a free fall -- that we started working on health care. But health care is the economy in the sense that if we don't get a handle on our health care costs, that's what's driving the deficit, that's what's driving the debt.

Q But you know that's the perception. When you talk to people they say, well, if he had worked on jobs first instead of health care -- so that's why I asked that question.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, you're right that -- look, we lost 4 million jobs before I was sworn in. We lost 4 million jobs in the first three or four months after I was sworn in, before our economic plan had a chance to take effect. And so what people experienced is: I lost my job, my house is underwater, the mortgage is -- my debt is more than the house is worth. And if that's what you're experiencing it's hard for the President to come in and say, well, things would have been a lot worse if we hadn't taken these steps. That's not a --

Q It's hard if you would have the headline.

THE PRESIDENT: Right. And so I won't be satisfied until every person out there who lost their job during this recession is able to find one again. But it's painful and it's going to take time.

Q But did you come into office -- can I just ask, did you come into office and then go, whoa, this is worse than I ever thought it was? (Laughter.) Whoa, this is a bigger mess than I thought -- did you?

THE PRESIDENT: I think we had a sense of it in the couple months before the election. Starting around September of 2008, I think everybody started realizing that the scope of this crisis was going to be big. And so by the time -- I didn't really have time to do a little victory lap. The day after we were in Grant Park we met here in Chicago with our economic team to start figuring out what to do.

Q On Facebook when you had that conference recently, you were saying that these are the most tumultuous times that you've ever witnessed in your lifetime. And we all know that the country has been through more difficult times. There have been wars and other challenges. What do you think defines this as the most tumultuous?

THE PRESIDENT: What's happening is that there are these big global changes and the world is more integrated. Because of technology, we know what's happening on the other side of the world instantly.

Q And that's a good thing.

THE PRESIDENT: And that's a good thing. But what it also means is that if there is a problem one place, it can move around the globe very rapidly. So what happens in Libya suddenly affects oil prices here. What happens because of a subprime loan in California can cause Iceland to be bankrupt. And so you've got all these different forces moving very rapidly all at the same time.

Having said that, I am also extraordinarily optimistic about our ability to adapt and to change and make sure that the 21st century is the American Century, just like the 20th century was. And the reason is, is because there are certain strengths we have -- a diverse population, a nation of immigrants -- so we know how to work with people from all around the world. And we draw on the strengths of every culture.

We've got the most dynamic economy in the world. We've got the best universities, the best scientists, the best researchers, and the most open society. So a new information age -- that's perfectly designed for us to succeed. But we're going to have to make sure that we stay focused on what got us here, and that's innovation, that's technology, that's making sure that we come together as one country and we're not splintered apart.

And so when I worry right now, it's not about sort of the technical problems of how we solve our debt, or how do we rebuild our infrastructure. These aren't technical problems. It really has to do with do we have the political will and the sense of community to be able to execute on these plans. And I'm confident we can.

Q Have you been disappointed at how difficult it is to get things done?

MRS. OBAMA: It can be painful to watch. But Barack was in the Senate for many years, and I think he had a taste of how challenging it is when you work in a democracy. And that's one of the beauties of our country. We have a democracy, which means -- I always tease people -- Barack is not a dictator, and that's a good thing, so he can't just go in and say, health care shall be, and now let's go and implement it. It requires congressional cooperation and a whole range of cooperative actions that make our country great.

But it makes the process difficult and slower than I think many people would like. But I think the alternative is not something that we want as a nation. We've made that decision.

Q We'll be back. More with the President and First Lady when we come back.
(Applause.)

(A video is shown.)

Q From the Oprah Show archives, that was then Illinois Senator Barack Obama, in 2006. We all know what happened next. He announced, he ran, he won, becoming the first African American President of the United States.

So you're officially running again in 2012?

THE PRESIDENT: I am. (Applause.)

Q Did you all decide together?

THE PRESIDENT: Absolutely. Michelle has always had veto power over these kinds of decisions, because the burden is --

MRS. OBAMA: I should use it more. (Laughter.)

Q Did you ever consider not? Did you ever --

MRS. OBAMA: No, no --

Q -- was there ever a doubt that you would?

MRS. OBAMA: This is an honor and it's a duty. And we take this responsibility very seriously. And if there are things that we can continue to do, and I think this President has a lot more to get done, then we let the American people decide. (Applause.)

Q So, as we know, with partisan politics things could get very mean-spirited. How do you intend to elevate this process?

THE PRESIDENT: Part of what I intend to do is just stay focused on my job. Obviously the Republicans are going to have to decide who their nominee is, and that gives me time to stay focused on making sure that families are able to pay their bills and find jobs and have an energy plan that's in place, get immigration -- an immigration law passed that makes sense.

So there are going to be a lot of things that we've got to get done. And my hope is that people are sobered by the challenges we have and want a good, solid, honest debate. There are some real differences between the parties. And that's how it should be. As Michelle said, that's how democracy is supposed to work. What I want to do is make sure that it doesn't get personal and that the focus is on where the focus should be, which is how to make the lives of the American people better.

Q Even though there are differences that you have with members of the Republican Party, do you believe that their intent is also for the well-being and the good of the country?

THE PRESIDENT: Absolutely. Look, I think that it's very important to understand that we can disagree without questioning each other's intention or our patriotism --

MRS. OBAMA: Or citizenship. (Laughter and applause.)

Q Or citizenship -- or citizenship.

THE PRESIDENT: There are Republicans out there who I disagree with very strongly on issues but I know are good people that want the best for the country. They -- we have a difference in terms of how to get there --

Q Would you say there are Republicans you admire?

THE PRESIDENT: Absolutely. Absolutely. There are Republicans I admire who are in office now. There are certainly Republicans I admire from the past, starting with a guy named Abraham Lincoln. He was pretty good. He was a Republican -- my favorite President.

Q Favorite President. So tell me how it is you all remain connected to what's really going on. You speak so eloquently about what the American people are feeling and you wake up thinking about jobs for them and how their life is going. How, when you're living in the bubble that you're in -- and you both can see there is a bubble -- how, when you're living in the bubble, do you remain connected to ordinary people, when your circle, even the people who are in your circle now, are also living in the bubble?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, there are a couple of things. One, as I said, I get letters from constituents all across the country every night, and I make sure to read them, and I respond to as many as I can. And the stories folks tell are just incredibly powerful. And it runs the gamut. A woman might write and say, my father had a mental illness, and so when I saw the shooting of Gabby Gifford, it reminded me of the fact that it was so hard to get my father help for his illness and sometimes he was violent.

And you'll read something like that and it will make you think about what are our policies in terms of mental health.

Or you'll hear a child who says, "My parents are about to lose their home. Is there something you can do, Mr. President?"

And you think about what it would be like for somebody who is seven or eight or nine, and they're seeing their parents worried, and how that might affect them.

So that makes a big difference. And then I think having my mother-in-law in the house, that helps, because she escapes the bubble.

Q Mrs. Robinson. Yes, because she can go out. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: So she goes out.

Q She still goes out.

THE PRESIDENT: So she goes to CVS or --

MRS. OBAMA: Don't tell them where she goes.

THE PRESIDENT: Oh, okay, you're right. (Laughter.)

Q Mrs. Robinson, do you still like your living in the bubble, or can you get out of the bubble?

MRS. ROBINSON: I can get out, but I still feel like I'm living in the bubble.

MRS. OBAMA: It's a pretty big bubble.

THE PRESIDENT: Although when she goes out and people come up and say, "Aren't you Mrs. Robinson?" -- she denies it. (Laughter.) She says, "People tell me that all the time."

Q All the time, all the time.

MRS. OBAMA: But the other thing that's important is that we get out. And, for me, I've tried to really get out in my new community, Washington, D.C., going into Anacostia, Southeast, spending time with kids, going into schools. And one of the reasons why we've opened up the White House -- we had 30,000 people at the Easter Egg Roll. Now, we didn't get to hang out with all of them -- but bringing kids in for mentoring events and for music series, making sure we're in conversations with people when we go out and they come in. I'm always -- I always tell my staff I want to sit down with people. When I'm at a military facility, I don't want to just tour and get a shot; I want to sit down off-camera, talk to women, talk to our service members. And those conversations help fuel you with the stories that --

Q Yes, you and Mrs. Biden have become the voice for those people who had no voice, yes.

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, we're very proud of that. (Applause.)

Q I just saw the public -- do we have a bit of that public service announcement? You know you've made it when you're on Sesame Street.

MRS. OBAMA: Sesame Street. Oh, I've been on Sesame Street a few times -- me and Elmo, we're like this. (Laughter.)

Q Really made it. Take a look at this. Take a look at this.

(A public service announcement is shown.) (Laughter and applause.)

After a while, you think you're talking to people with them.

We'll be right back. More in a moment. We'll be right back. (Applause.)

* * * * *

Q We're back with the President and First Lady. First time ever that's ever happened on the Oprah Show -- 25 years. I didn't think you could surprise me with anything new, particularly as we're almost to the end. Seventeen shows left after you.

THE PRESIDENT: I know.

Q And now the both of you sit here. My grandmother is not turning over in the grave. She got up and got dressed in the grave this morning. (Laughter and applause.)

So we were talking about what it means to hold this office, and everybody knows that there's the pomp and the circumstance, and you get to live in the White House. And when I interviewed you all at the White House for Christmas a year ago, you were talking about him coming home in the helicopter. So there are all these benefits. But at what sacrifice, do you think? What sacrifice has it taken on your --

MRS. OBAMA: I think one of the greatest sacrifices for people like us who like being with people is that it's the bubble -- we talked about it. I can't go to Target and walk around. I guess I could, but it would really mess up everyone else's shopping experience. (Laughter.)

Q You came to Los Angeles recently and everybody was like, the traffic! And then the last you came you did the helicopter. Thank you. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: No, but there's no doubt that's the toughest thing about the job, is that you can't do anything outside of the White House grounds that's spontaneous.

Q You can't get in the car and go for a drive.

THE PRESIDENT: You can't get in the car and go for a drive.

MRS. OBAMA: You can't drive.

Q You can't drive.

THE PRESIDENT: You can't drive. You can't take a walk. And I was talking to a group of magazine editors a while back and they asked me about this. And I said that is the single thing that I miss most, is I used to be able to take Sasha and Malia over to the park and swing them on a swing and decide afterwards we might go get some ice cream or stop by a bookstore. And those kinds of moments, they are so precious. You forget how precious they are until you can't do them anymore.

Q One of our producers, Andrea Wishom, lived in your neighborhood -- lives in your neighborhood still, and she says she remembers you taking the girls trick-or-treating.

THE PRESIDENT: Right.

MRS. OBAMA: Oh, yeah.

Q So now you can't do that anymore.

THE PRESIDENT: Now, the last time I went trick-or-treating was -- I had already won the nomination, so this was in October of 2008. And I wore a full mask so nobody knew who I was. (Laughter.) I guess it was actually 2007. I hadn't won the nomination yet. But I wore a mask and nobody knew and it was a lot of fun. (Laughter.)

Q Really?

THE PRESIDENT: Yeah. Every once in the while I would take the mask off and go "boo" to the kids. (Laughter.) They'd say, that's Barack Obama.

Q So I would like to ask, what do you know -- you know in my magazine at the end I always talk about what I know for sure. What do you know for sure about marriage? You're married now 18 years. (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: It has to be a true partnership, and you have to really, really like and respect the person that you're married to, because it is a hard road. I mean, that's what I tell young couples. Don't expect it to be easy. Melding two lives and trying to raise others and doing it forever, I mean, yes, that's a recipe made for disaster. So there are highs and lows. But if in the end you can look him in the eye and say, I like you -- and I stopped believing at love in first sight. I think you go through that, that wonderful love stage. But when it gets hard you need a little bit more.

Q Are you surprised that you are the First Lady in the White House with Barack Obama? I was reading this article recently --

THE PRESIDENT: Oh, I would hope that she'd be the only First Lady with Barack Obama. (Laughter and applause.)

Q No, but I'm saying -- and the reason and I'm asking that --

THE PRESIDENT: I wouldn't want any other First Ladies in the White House with me. (Laughter.)

Q Well, the reason why I'm asking that is because I read in The New York Times a story that they're writing about your mother, where she said that she always thought you would be a cross between Mahatma Gandhi and Albert Einstein and always had great expectations for you. The question is: Are you surprised that he became President of the United States, knowing who he is?

THE PRESIDENT: I think growing up like we did, no matter what, your parents told you, we never thought we -- you could be President. No, no way. It was up until Election Night that I was like, really? (Laughter.) You actually pulled this off? So I think our lives were limited in that way. And I think one of the beautiful things that we will get from the presidency is that young kids now only know this man to be President of the United States, so, for so many, they can see themselves.

So -- am I surprised that he's doing a great job? No. I knew he was ready for this. I always told the voters -- I said, the question isn't whether Barack Obama is ready to be President. The question is whether we're ready. And that still continues to be the question that we have to ask ourselves. Are we ready for change? Are we ready for sacrifice and compromise? Are we ready to really make the hard push?

Because he's ready, and that is not a surprise to me. He has been consistent in that regard. So he has performed as I would have expected him to perform. (Applause.)

Q Consistent.

Well, if we look behind at the pictures -- you see those pictures? One of my favorite moments is that picture of you on the stage in Grant Park. What were you saying in that moment?

THE PRESIDENT: I think she was saying, I can't believe you pulled this off. (Laughter.)

Q And what were you saying to her?

THE PRESIDENT: I said, yes, how about that? (Laughter.) That's interesting.

Q Very interesting.

THE PRESIDENT: I will tell you, though, that obviously I couldn't have done anything that I've done without Michelle. But you were asking earlier what keeps me sane, what keeps me balanced, what allows me to deal with the pressure. It is this young lady right here and our two daughters. Because when I come home, no matter what I'm dealing with, I know that I've got people there who not only do I love, but whose company I just enjoy and who will bring me down to a level of basic humanity and humor, and will knock me down a peg --

MRS. OBAMA: Just chill out. Chill out.

THE PRESIDENT: -- and make sure that I'm not taking myself too seriously, even if I'm taking the work seriously. And so not only has she been a great First Lady, but she is just my rock, and I count on her in so many ways every single day.

Q What has been the best moment you all had to share as a family since you became President of the United States?

MRS. OBAMA: A lot of our foreign travel. For me I think those trips, being able to watch the girls meet the Pope. Watching Malia and Sasha Obama -- and Grandma and Mama

Kaye -- meet the Pope. That was pretty --

THE PRESIDENT: Although I learned later -- I met with the Pope first. Apparently, they were getting tired and they wanted to sit on the floor in the Sistine Chapel. (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: You know how you have those moments, girl, get up.

Q Get up, girl. (Laughter.) It's the Pope.

MRS. OBAMA: Do not sit down. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: Apparently each time they saw somebody in a frock, they'd say, "Is that the Pope?" (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: Not yet.

THE PRESIDENT: Not yet. No, no, you'll know when it's the Pope.

MRS. OBAMA: How will I know?

THE PRESIDENT: Although we've also had -- sometimes during these summer vacations.

Q Yes, that's what I was going to ask.

THE PRESIDENT: You remember when we went up to Maine, for example?

MRS. OBAMA: Yes, yes, that's right.

THE PRESIDENT: And you'll get these magical days where we're walking along some path --

MRS. OBAMA: We were actually hiking.

THE PRESIDENT: We were hiking. And every once in a while you'd run across fellow hikers who --

MRS. OBAMA: Who got magged.

THE PRESIDENT: -- had got magged like 30 feet ahead, and they're all like what the heck is going on?

MRS. OBAMA: Whoa, what's going on?

THE PRESIDENT: And then we'd show up. And Malia and Sasha are running around, and Malia started making up some song --

MRS. OBAMA: Skipping rocks.

THE PRESIDENT: And then we came up along this inlet where I taught them how to skip rocks, and there were some wild blueberries that we picked.

MRS. OBAMA: Bo was with us, and he's running around.

THE PRESIDENT: You know, you have moments like that.

MRS. OBAMA: That felt normal.

THE PRESIDENT: And it felt normal. And as I said, because sometimes we don't have that, it feels that much more special. And you have those days where, while it's happening you say --

MRS. OBAMA: This is good -- a good day.

THE PRESIDENT: -- this is good. This is worth it. Whatever else is going on, seeing those two girls and my wife and us being --

Q A family skipping stones in Maine --

THE PRESIDENT: A family skipping stones in Maine.

Q -- is one of your favorite memories out of all the things you've done.

THE PRESIDENT: Can't beat it. Can't beat it.

Q Can't beat it.

THE PRESIDENT: Can't beat it. (Applause.)

Q I understand you're also a basketball coach.

THE PRESIDENT: I was a consultant and assistant basketball coach to our -- to Sasha's team this year. They had a couple of parents who were wonderful, and they were the coaches regularly. But Reggie Love, who played at Duke, my body guy, my assistant, we decided to have some clinics for the girls. And so every Sunday, we would bring Sasha and her teammates -- Joe Biden's granddaughter, Maisy, is terrific basketball player.

MRS. OBAMA: Way to go, Maisy.

THE PRESIDENT: And we'd bring them together and we've have these clinics and we'd have these drills. And then a couple of times when the regular coaches couldn't coach, Reggie and I were the coaches. And, oh, it was nerve-wracking. (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: They would take these games so seriously.

THE PRESIDENT: Absolutely.

MRS. OBAMA: It was just, chill. Just relax.

THE PRESIDENT: But those are my girls.

Q Do people not cut you slack when you're playing basketball, too? Do they not?

THE PRESIDENT: You remember I got my lip all messed up. You remember that?

Q I know. I know.

THE PRESIDENT: That's not cutting me slack. Reggie said it well. He said, you don't want to let him win because he will talk about you. (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: That is true.

Q So this is the question, though, when -- and I think every person who has been able to do better than their parents in life is faced with this question: When you are raising children, and you have access to everything, and you are successful in your own life, how do you raise children who have their own sense of ambition, a sense of kindness, a sense of grace? How do you manage that? Especially in the world you all are in.

MRS. OBAMA: You go back to the basics. I mean, I hear my parents' and his mom's voices ringing in our heads: Turn off the TV. You've got chores to do in this house.

And you got to get creative in the White House giving kids chores because they don't -- (laughter) -- they just say, why do I have to make my bed? It's like you have to learn how to make a bed. You have to --

Q Yes, I really would be like why do I need it?

MRS. OBAMA: Yes, well -- and we have the conversation about why. So when you're in that situation, we have real discussions about responsibility and not taking anything for granted.

THE PRESIDENT: Respect.

MRS. OBAMA: And not having a bunch of grownups doing stuff for you when you're completely capable of doing it yourself, and being able to take care of your own business when you're older, that you're not living in the White House forever. You're going to college. Maybe you'll get married, and you better know how to make a bed. We have those discussions. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: And Malia and Sasha, they have set their own alarm and woken up on their own and gotten ready for school on their own since they were -- five?

MRS. OBAMA: Since they started school.

THE PRESIDENT: Since they started school.

MRS. OBAMA: Yes.

Q And they still do?

MRS. OBAMA: They do.

THE PRESIDENT: Absolutely.

MRS. OBAMA: Yes.

Q I heard you on the Gil King Show the other day say that Malia was going to have to start doing laundry, and I went, really?

MRS. OBAMA: Yes, yes. (Laughter.) I mean, first of all, what else does she have to do? You know? (Laughter.) I mean it's like --

Q Homework and stuff.

MRS. OBAMA: You know what that get -- and it gets done, and then what? Because they have limited TV time and computer time, and they spend time with their friends, but there's still a lot of time to learn something that's productive. And Grandma still does her own laundry at the White House, so she's going to be in charge of laundry duty because I don't do my laundry. I know how to do my laundry. (Laughter.)

Q Yes, you don't have to learn that.

MRS. OBAMA: I've learned that lesson. She may do my laundry -- Malia. But, again, she has to learn how to do that. And I don't want her to be 15, 16, and be that kid that says, I've never done laundry before. I don't even want to -- I would cringe if she became that kid.

Q I don't think that's going to happen. I think that you're doing an amazing -- you, too -- (laughter and applause) -- but you're doing an amazing job of raising them. They're still so themselves. They're so themselves.

We'll be right back, more with the President and the First Lady.

* * * * *

Q I'm still -- you know, I don't look nervous, do I?

MRS. OBAMA: No, you look good.

Q I'm doing okay.

THE PRESIDENT: You're looking good.

Q Well, I was a little nervous. Because as I was saying, just the very idea of you being here and what this office means. What's very interesting, I was saying to my staff before that you all were here before -- I think this is your third time on the show -- and people weren't putting on mascara and stuff. (Laughter.) It's the office of the President.

THE PRESIDENT: It's the office.

Q Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: And I'm always mindful of that, that I'm a temporary occupant. And it is an extraordinary privilege and I just have to make sure that I'm doing the best possible job not only on behalf of the American people but also on behalf of our history and all the previous occupants of this office. And when the next person comes, then they will be inheriting these enormous responsibilities but also a great honor. But it's temporary.

Q If you're elected to a second term, what do you want your legacy to be?

THE PRESIDENT: It's interesting, I was thinking back to my first campaign and why I decided to run. The American people are so hardworking, they're so responsible, they are so interested in doing the right thing, and for the last decade or so, they've lost that sense that as a consequence of their work they're able to get ahead. Wages and incomes had flat-lined. I think there's been a general sense that the American Dream for too many folks is slipping away.

And so my legacy, what I -- beyond specific legislation, making sure everybody can get health care, making sure that we've got an energy plan that's solid, or fixing our schools -- what I want is people to once again feel like, if I'm out there working hard and doing the right thing, opportunity is right there for me to grab.

And I think it is. I think this is the greatest country on Earth. It will continue to be the greatest country on Earth. But I want everybody to feel in their own lives, day to day, that opportunity is right there in front of them, and for us as a country to regain that sense of incredible possibility. And that requires an economy that is generating enough economic growth, generating jobs, that people can feel confident that they can make it.

Q Do you feel confident that you can accomplish that when we live in a world of distractions, where people throw stones before you can barely get your policies out or address? Do you feel that that can happen in the environment that we are now --

THE PRESIDENT: I think we still have work to do on our politics. Our politics is too splintered. It trivializes important issues --

Q Has that been one of your biggest disappointments?

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, that I have not been able to change Washington's tone as much as I wanted.

Q You thought you could?

THE PRESIDENT: I thought I could. And probably --

Q Now do you think you can't?

THE PRESIDENT: -- was overly optimistic. No, I still think I can; I just think it takes more time. Keep in mind part of the reason it became hard was that the economic crisis created enormous stresses and strains on everybody, and it's harder for us to listen to one another and to give each other the benefit of the doubt and to work together when people are under extraordinary stresses and strains.

But I still believe that if you look at our history, whenever we've come up on these crossroads where we had to make a turn to succeed or there's a turn that ends up putting us in a bad spot, we typically make the right decision. Sometimes we have to wait until the very last minute to get there, because it's hard, but I do think that we can still change our tone.

Q Does he handle stones being thrown better than you?

MRS. OBAMA: Yes, absolutely. No, he does. I mean, who you see -- this is -- this isn't pretend. I mean, he is a calm, mature, rational character. I think he's a lot funnier than people think. I think --

THE PRESIDENT: I'm a funny guy. (Laughter.)

Q Hysterical. (Laughter.)

MRS. OBAMA: Some of the stereotypes are kind of strange to me. But I think that when you run into somebody who --

Q Well, you hear him characterized as aloof --

MRS. OBAMA: That's just -- I'm like, who? Who are you talking about? This is a guy who's coaching and rolling around the floor and being silly and dancing -- his bad dances. I mean, it's -- (laughter) --

THE PRESIDENT: See that?

MRS. OBAMA: But he is calm. And I think that that's --

Q And is that because -- I was reading last week -- I didn't mean to interrupt.

MRS. OBAMA: No, no.

Q I was reading -- when I was reading the article about your mother, the story of your mother -- and in that story they talked about you being taken from Hawaii after you were born there, and taken to Indonesia at six years old, and somebody who was with your mother witnessed kids calling you names and calling you out of your name because of the color of your skin. And your mother said, "Oh, let him be. He's used to it." And I was wondering if growing up, with people making fun of you because of the color of your skin, gave you a thicker skin for all the things that you're dealing with now.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, it's hard to figure out how exactly --

Q That happened.

THE PRESIDENT: -- you ended up the way you ended up. Some of it's temperament. We see it in our daughters, because Malia's temperament is more like mine and Sasha's is more like Michelle's, and that's just the way they showed up. (Laughter.) I mean, they have different personalities. So some of it is that.

I have no doubt that some of it is the fact that I had a lot of changes when I was young: father not in the home; moving around quite a bit; oftentimes being an outsider in -- an African American in a place where there weren't a lot of African Americans, or having an unusual name. So --

Q Which you write about in "Dreams" --

THE PRESIDENT: Yes. So all those things, I'm sure, contributed. And some of it, though, I also think just has to do with the fact that as I get older, it's easier to keep things in perspective. That story I was telling you about, being up in Maine, skipping stones, those are the things I know I will remember. Or the --

MRS. OBAMA: Or the things you know for sure.

THE PRESIDENT: I know I'll remember that. I know that when that person -- a man came up to us the other day who said, my son had a kidney transplant when he was very young, and he just turned 21, didn't have health insurance, and because of that law that you passed, he is going to have health insurance for the next five years. And after that I know that because of the law he is going to be able to buy his own health insurance. I think you may have saved my son's life -- and you say to yourself, all right, this is good. This makes me feel like what I've done is worth it. (Applause.)

So what I try to do is remember that; how do I be true to those moments; how do I be true to the people who put this extraordinary confidence in me. And all the other stuff is just a sideshow.

MRS. OBAMA: Kids throwing stones.

Q Throwing stones. If you had to critique yourself, though -- because sometimes criticism is valid -- if you have to critique yourself on the past two and a half years --

THE PRESIDENT: I think that in the first two years, we were so busy just trying to solve problems that sometimes I forgot that part of leadership is being able to tell a story about where we're going and what we're doing. We did that very well during the campaign. We projected a vision of where America needs to go.

And then we got into the governance of it, and I'm trying to get this bill passed, and we're trying to make sure that the stock market recovers, and we're doing this and we're doing that. And all those individual pieces made sense in my own head and to our teams, but sometimes we forgot to be in a conversation with the American people where we said this is why we're doing it, this is where we need to go. And that is -- that's more than just communications, it's more than just PR. It has to do with us being in a collective conversation about who we want to be as a country, where do we want to go. And I think there have been times where I lost that.

Q Is it connection? Do you think you lost connection?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, it's not so much personal connection with people. It's losing that thread that helps people see --

Q The eyes on the prize.

THE PRESIDENT: -- the eyes on the prize. And there have been times where I've lost that.

Q We'll be right back. (Applause.)

Q Thank you for being here.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, look, Oprah, you are a great friend of both of ours. But I just want you to know that you have changed this country in unimaginable ways. And it just has to do with what folks were just saying. You've got a big heart and you share it with people. And nobody knows how to connect better than you do. And so we are just blessed and grateful to have you in our lives.

Q Thank you. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Congratulations.

Q Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you.

Q Thank you, Mrs. Obama.

MRS. OBAMA: Thank you.

Q Thank you, everybody. (Applause.) See you tomorrow. (Applause.)

YOUR INVITED GUESTS

Hunter and Kathleen Biden

Mr. David Bohnett, Chair, The David Bohnett Foundation

Bohnett is a philanthropist and technology entrepreneur committed to effecting positive change through community building and social activism. In addition to serving as Chair of the David Bohnett Foundation, he is Chairman of the Board of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Association and Trustee of amfAR (The Foundation for AIDS Research) and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA). Since 1999, the David Bohnett Foundation has provided funding, state-of-the-art technology and technical support to hundreds of innovative organizations and institutions. David Bohnett's many awards and distinctions include Los Angeles Business Journal's Technology Leader of the Year, Time Digital's Top 50 Cyber Elite, and Entrepreneur of the Year for Southern California. Mr. Bohnett maintains residences in Los Angeles and New York City.

Deborah Borda, President and CEO, Los Angeles Philharmonic Association

Borda heads one of the largest music organizations in the United States. She is responsible for the artistic, administrative, and technical operations of the Philharmonic at Walt Disney Concert Hall and the Hollywood Bowl, as well as the presentation of close to 300 concerts annually at these iconic venues. Borda has created groundbreaking educational programs and school partnerships, forging strong bonds with the greater Los Angeles community by making music more accessible to new generations of concertgoers. Following graduate studies at the Royal College of Music in London, she enjoyed an active performing career. She has chaired the Music Panel of both the National Endowment for the Arts and the Major American Orchestra Managers Group. Borda has also been featured in numerous national publications and television news programs.

Gerrett Copeland, Proprietor and Chairman, Bouchaine Vineyards

Longtime friends of yours and Dr. Biden, Copeland and his wife Tatiana, own the oldest winery in the Carneros region, Château Bouchaine. Prior to his involvement with Bouchaine winery, Gerret developed a successful New York Stock Exchange brokerage firm which he sold to Dean Witter. He resides in Wilmington, Delaware, where he is very involved with environmental causes. He helped establish The Brandywine Conservancy and its Environmental Management Center in Pennsylvania, which protects the Brandywine River Valley from pollution and over-development. For 10 years, as director of the Environmental Management Center, he assisted in preserving thousands of acres of open land in Pennsylvania and Delaware. Gerret currently serves as Chairman of the Delaware Art Museum. His father, Lammot du Pont Copeland, was the 11th president of the DuPont Company.

Tatiana Copeland, Owner and President, Tebec Associates Limited

Copeland is the owner and president of Tebec Associates Limited, a firm which specializes in financial and tax planning, and is the owner and president of The Wine & Spirit Company, co-owner and president of Bouchaine Vineyards, Inc., and co-owner and vice president of Rokeby Realty Company. She was previously employed as a manager in the International Department of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. in Wilmington. Mrs. Copeland and her husband were honored in 2005 as the largest individual donors to the Delaware Art Museum's capital campaign. The great-niece of renowned Russian composer Sergei Rachmaninoff, Mrs. Copeland is well known for her support of the musical arts in Delaware. She earned a B.S. in Accounting from the University of California at Los Angeles, graduating summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, and an M.B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley. She speaks several languages fluently, including Russian, French, German, Italian, and Spanish. Mrs. Copeland was knighted in 1991 by The Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia with The Order of St. Michael the Archangel.

Dr. Amy Gutmann, President, University of Pennsylvania

Gutmann also serves as Browne Distinguished Professor of Political Science in the School of Arts and Sciences at Penn with secondary faculty appointments in Philosophy, the Annenberg School for Communication, and the Graduate School of Education. Appointed in 2009 by President Barack Obama, Gutmann chairs the Presidential Commission for the Study of Bioethical Issues. She also serves on the National Commission on the Humanities and Social Sciences, and on the Boards of the National Constitution Center, the Carnegie Corporation, and the Vanguard Group. Gutmann is a founding member of the Global Colloquium of the University Presidents, which advises the Secretary General of the U.N. on a range of issues, including the social responsibility of universities. Prior to her appointment as Penn's President, Gutmann served as Provost at Princeton University. She earned her master's degree in Political Science from the London School of Economics and her doctorate in Political Science from Harvard University. She is married to Michael W. Doyle, the Harold Brown Professor of Law and International Affairs at Columbia University. Their daughter, Abigail Gutmann Doyle, is an Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University.

Dr. Michael W. Doyle, Harold Brown Professor of International Affairs, Law and Political Science at Columbia University

Doyle studied at the U.S. Air Force Academy for two years (and also qualified as a parachutist at Fort Benning) before transferring to Harvard University, where he earned his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. (in Political Science in 1977). He completed his military service in the Massachusetts Air National Guard. He directed the Center of International Studies at Princeton University and chaired the Editorial Board and the Committee of Editors of World Politics. He was the vice-president and senior fellow of the International Peace Academy and is now a member of its board of directors. He has also served as a member of the External Research Advisory Committee of the UNHCR and the Advisory Committee of the Lessons-Learned Unit of the Department of Peace-Keeping Operations (UN). In 2001-2003, he served as Assistant Secretary-General and Special Adviser to United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan. Michael Doyle is married to Amy Gutmann.

The Hon. Ted Kaufman, Former U.S. Senator, State of Delaware, longtime friend and advisor to the Vice President

Kaufman represented Delaware in the United States Senate from Jan. 16, 2009 to Nov. 15, 2010, after which he became chair of the Congressional Oversight Panel. Kaufman has taught at Duke Law

School since 1991; he also has taught in the Fuqua School of Business, and the Sanford School of Public Policy. From 1995 to 1999, Kaufman served as co-chair of the Law School's Center for the Study of Congress and he regularly teaches in the Duke in D.C. program. In 1995, Kaufman was appointed by President Clinton and confirmed by the U.S. Senate as a charter member of the Broadcasting Board of Governors. He was with Sen. Joseph R. Biden's staff from 1973 through 1994, and spent nineteen years as chief of staff. He previously worked for the Dupont Company in a variety of finance, technical, and marketing positions. He has a BSME from Duke University and an MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Lynne Kaufman, Spouse of The Hon. Ted Kaufman

Kaufman has been married to former Sen. Ted Kaufman since 1960 and they reside in Wilmington, Delaware. They have three daughters, Kelly, Murry and Meg and 7 grandchildren.

Mrs. Janet MacGilvray, Long-time supporter from West Islip, NY

She has been married to James MacGilvray for 45 years and currently resides in West Islip, NY. She has four children.

Mr. James P. MacGilvray, JP Mac LLC, CEO

MacGilvray is well known in the financial world, having served in senior management positions at UBS, PaineWebber and Fidelity. He serves on the boards of the Ronald McDonald House, NY; New York Foundling Hospital; the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation; and the Patrons Program for the Inner-City Schools. His wife of 45 years, Mrs. Janet MacGilvray, is also in attendance.

Dr. Robert Rosenwasser, Chairman of Neurosurgery, Thomas Jefferson University Hospital

Rosenwasser is recognized as one of the world leaders uniquely specialized as both a cerebrovascular neurosurgeon trained by Drs. Charles Drake and Skip Peerless as well as an interventional neuroradiologist trained by Dr. Alex Berenstein. Dr. Rosenwasser also performs all the radiosurgical treatments of arteriovenous malformations (AVMs) in the Division.

Dr. Deborah August, Anesthesiologist

August is an anesthesiologist in Philadelphia, PA. She is certified by the American Board of Anesthesiology and is married to Dr. Robert Rosenwasser.

Mr. George Tsunis, President, George Tsunis Real Estate

Prior to founding Chartwell Hotels, Tsunis was a partner at the law firm of Rivkin Radler LLP, Long Island's largest law firm. Tsunis currently serves as a member of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocesan Council of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of the United States and a member of its Faith Endowment. As an Archon of the Ecumenical Patriarchate Order of Saint Andrew he serves on its National Council. He is also a member of the Brookings Institution's Foreign Policy Leadership Committee and its Metropolitan Leadership Council and has previously served as a Trustee at Dowling College and the Board of Visitors at Touro Law School. Tsunis received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from New York University and his Juris Doctor from St. John's University School of Law. Mr. Tsunis and his wife Olga live on Long Island, New York with their three children.

Dr. Olga J. Tsunis

Tsunis attended New York University for both her undergraduate and graduate studies. She graduated with a Bachelor Degree in Physical Therapy in 1995 and started working at Mount Sinai Hospital treating patients with various dysfunctions. She received a Doctoral Degree in 2002 and specialized in rehabilitating patients with neurological impairments at New York Presbyterian Hospital. She is a mother of 3 and has been a stay at home mom since her son was born in 2007.

ENTERTAINMENT

Mumford & Sons

Mumford & Sons are a British folk rock band. The band consists of Marcus Mumford, Ben Lovett, Country Winston Marshall, and Ted Dwane. Mumford & Sons recorded an EP, Love Your Ground, and toured extensively in Ireland to expose audiences to their music and build support for an eventual album. Their debut album, Sigh No More, was released in the UK and Ireland in October 2009 and in the United States on February 2010. The album reached number one in Ireland, Australia and New Zealand and peaked at number two on the UK Album Chart and the Billboard 200 in the US. The band gained popularity throughout 2010, performing for larger audiences and making their first network television appearances in the U.S. In December 2010, the band received two Grammy Award nominations, one for Best New Artist and the other for Best Rock Song ("Little Lion Man"). They won the ARIA Music Award for Most Popular International Artist in 2010 and the British Award in 2011 for Best British Album. In 2011 they received an European Border Breakers Award for their international success.

John Legend

John Roger Stephens, better known as John Legend, is the recipient of nine Grammy Awards, and in 2007, he received the special Starlight award from the Songwriters Hall of Fame. Legend was a child prodigy whose grandmother taught him how to play the piano. He attended the University of Pennsylvania where he directed a coed a cappella group. After graduation, he switched gears and worked for Boston Consulting Group but continued to perform in nightclubs in New York City. Legend became an in-demand session musician and songwriter, working with such artists as Alicia Keys, Twista and Janet Jackson. Legend's debut album, 2004's Get Lifted, went platinum. He won three Grammy Awards for Get Lifted: Best R&B Album, Best R&B Male Vocal Performance and Best New Artist. Legend's sophomore effort, Once Again, was released in 2006.

YOUR INVITED GUESTS

Hunter and Kathleen Biden

Mr. David Bohnett, Chair, The David Bohnett Foundation

Bohnett is a philanthropist and technology entrepreneur committed to effecting positive change through community building and social activism. In addition to serving as Chair of the David Bohnett Foundation, he is Chairman of the Board of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Association and Trustee of amfAR (The Foundation for AIDS Research) and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA). Since 1999, the David Bohnett Foundation has provided funding, state-of-the-art technology and technical support to hundreds of innovative organizations and institutions. David Bohnett's many awards and distinctions include Los Angeles Business Journal's Technology Leader of the Year, Time Digital's Top 50 Cyber Elite, and Entrepreneur of the Year for Southern California. Mr. Bohnett maintains residences in Los Angeles and New York City.

Deborah Borda, President and CEO, Los Angeles Philharmonic Association

Borda heads one of the largest music organizations in the United States. She is responsible for the artistic, administrative, and technical operations of the Philharmonic at Walt Disney Concert Hall and the Hollywood Bowl, as well as the presentation of close to 300 concerts annually at these iconic venues. Borda has created groundbreaking educational programs and school partnerships, forging strong bonds with the greater Los Angeles community by making music more accessible to new generations of concertgoers. Following graduate studies at the Royal College of Music in London, she enjoyed an active performing career. She has chaired the Music Panel of both the National Endowment for the Arts and the Major American Orchestra Managers Group. Borda has also been featured in numerous national publications and television news programs.

Gerrett Copeland, Proprietor and Chairman, Bouchaine Vineyards

Longtime friends of yours and Dr. Biden, Copeland and his wife Tatiana, own the oldest winery in the Carneros region, Château Bouchaine. Prior to his involvement with Bouchaine winery, Gerret developed a successful New York Stock Exchange brokerage firm which he sold to Dean Witter. He resides in Wilmington, Delaware, where he is very involved with environmental causes. He helped establish The Brandywine Conservancy and its Environmental Management Center in Pennsylvania, which protects the Brandywine River Valley from pollution and over-development. For 10 years, as director of the Environmental Management Center, he assisted in preserving thousands of acres of open land in Pennsylvania and Delaware. Gerret currently serves as Chairman of the Delaware Art Museum. His father, Lammot du Pont Copeland, was the 11th president of the DuPont Company.

Tatiana Copeland, Owner and President, Tebec Associates Limited

Copeland is the owner and president of Tebec Associates Limited, a firm which specializes in financial and tax planning, and is the owner and president of The Wine & Spirit Company, co-owner and president of Bouchaine Vineyards, Inc., and co-owner and vice president of Rokeby Realty Company. She was previously employed as a manager in the International Department of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. in Wilmington. Mrs. Copeland and her husband were honored in 2005 as the largest individual donors to the Delaware Art Museum's capital campaign. The great-niece of renowned Russian composer Sergei Rachmaninoff, Mrs. Copeland is well known for her support of the musical arts in Delaware. She earned a B.S. in Accounting from the University of California at Los Angeles, graduating summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, and an M.B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley. She speaks several languages fluently, including Russian, French, German, Italian, and Spanish. Mrs. Copeland was knighted in 1991 by The Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia with The Order of St. Michael the Archangel.

Dr. Amy Gutmann, President, University of Pennsylvania

Gutmann also serves as Browne Distinguished Professor of Political Science in the School of Arts and Sciences at Penn with secondary faculty appointments in Philosophy, the Annenberg School for Communication, and the Graduate School of Education. Appointed in 2009 by President Barack Obama, Gutmann chairs the Presidential Commission for the Study of Bioethical Issues. She also serves on the National Commission on the Humanities and Social Sciences, and on the Boards of the National Constitution Center, the Carnegie Corporation, and the Vanguard Group. Gutmann is a founding member of the Global Colloquium of the University Presidents, which advises the Secretary General of the U.N. on a range of issues, including the social responsibility of universities. Prior to her appointment as Penn's President, Gutmann served as Provost at Princeton University. She earned her master's degree in Political Science from the London School of Economics and her doctorate in Political Science from Harvard University. She is married to Michael W. Doyle, the Harold Brown Professor of Law and International Affairs at Columbia University. Their daughter, Abigail Gutmann Doyle, is an Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University.

Dr. Michael W. Doyle, Harold Brown Professor of International Affairs, Law and Political Science at Columbia University

Doyle studied at the U.S. Air Force Academy for two years (and also qualified as a parachutist at Fort Benning) before transferring to Harvard University, where he earned his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. (in Political Science in 1977). He completed his military service in the Massachusetts Air National Guard. He directed the Center of International Studies at Princeton University and chaired the Editorial Board and the Committee of Editors of World Politics. He was the vice-president and senior fellow of the International Peace Academy and is now a member of its board of directors. He has also served as a member of the External Research Advisory Committee of the UNHCR and the Advisory Committee of the Lessons-Learned Unit of the Department of Peace-Keeping Operations (UN). In 2001-2003, he served as Assistant Secretary-General and Special Adviser to United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan. Michael Doyle is married to Amy Gutmann.

The Hon. Ted Kaufman, Former U.S. Senator, State of Delaware, longtime friend and advisor to the Vice President

Kaufman represented Delaware in the United States Senate from Jan. 16, 2009 to Nov. 15, 2010, after which he became chair of the Congressional Oversight Panel. Kaufman has taught at Duke Law

School since 1991; he also has taught in the Fuqua School of Business, and the Sanford School of Public Policy. From 1995 to 1999, Kaufman served as co-chair of the Law School's Center for the Study of Congress and he regularly teaches in the Duke in D.C. program. In 1995, Kaufman was appointed by President Clinton and confirmed by the U.S. Senate as a charter member of the Broadcasting Board of Governors. He was with Sen. Joseph R. Biden's staff from 1973 through 1994, and spent nineteen years as chief of staff. He previously worked for the Dupont Company in a variety of finance, technical, and marketing positions. He has a BSME from Duke University and an MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Lynne Kaufman, Spouse of The Hon. Ted Kaufman

Kaufman has been married to former Sen. Ted Kaufman since 1960 and they reside in Wilmington, Delaware. They have three daughters, Kelly, Murry and Meg and 7 grandchildren.

Mrs. Janet MacGilvray, Long-time supporter from West Islip, NY

She has been married to James MacGilvray for 45 years and currently resides in West Islip, NY. She has four children.

Mr. James P. MacGilvray, JP Mac LLC, CEO

MacGilvray is well known in the financial world, having served in senior management positions at UBS, PaineWebber and Fidelity. He serves on the boards of the Ronald McDonald House, NY; New York Foundling Hospital; the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation; and the Patrons Program for the Inner-City Schools. His wife of 45 years, Mrs. Janet MacGilvray, is also in attendance.

Dr. Robert Rosenwasser, Chairman of Neurosurgery, Thomas Jefferson University Hospital

Rosenwasser is recognized as one of the world leaders uniquely specialized as both a cerebrovascular neurosurgeon trained by Drs. Charles Drake and Skip Peerless as well as an interventional neuroradiologist trained by Dr. Alex Berenstein. Dr. Rosenwasser also performs all the radiosurgical treatments of arteriovenous malformations (AVMs) in the Division.

Dr. Deborah August, Anesthesiologist

August is an anesthesiologist in Philadelphia, PA. She is certified by the American Board of Anesthesiology and is married to Dr. Robert Rosenwasser.

Mr. George Tsunis, President, George Tsunis Real Estate

Prior to founding Chartwell Hotels, Tsunis was a partner at the law firm of Rivkin Radler LLP, Long Island's largest law firm. Tsunis currently serves as a member of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocesan Council of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of the United States and a member of its Faith Endowment. As an Archon of the Ecumenical Patriarchate Order of Saint Andrew he serves on its National Council. He is also a member of the Brookings Institution's Foreign Policy Leadership Committee and its Metropolitan Leadership Council and has previously served as a Trustee at Dowling College and the Board of Visitors at Touro Law School. Tsunis received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from New York University and his Juris Doctor from St. John's University School of Law. Mr. Tsunis and his wife Olga live on Long Island, New York with their three children.

Dr. Olga J. Tsunis

Tsunis attended New York University for both her undergraduate and graduate studies. She graduated with a Bachelor Degree in Physical Therapy in 1995 and started working at Mount Sinai Hospital treating patients with various dysfunctions. She received a Doctoral Degree in 2002 and specialized in rehabilitating patients with neurological impairments at New York Presbyterian Hospital. She is a mother of 3 and has been a stay at home mom since her son was born in 2007.

ENTERTAINMENT

Mumford & Sons

Mumford & Sons are a British folk rock band. The band consists of Marcus Mumford, Ben Lovett, Country Winston Marshall, and Ted Dwane. Mumford & Sons recorded an EP, Love Your Ground, and toured extensively in Ireland to expose audiences to their music and build support for an eventual album. Their debut album, Sigh No More, was released in the UK and Ireland in October 2009 and in the United States on February 2010. The album reached number one in Ireland, Australia and New Zealand and peaked at number two on the UK Album Chart and the Billboard 200 in the US. The band gained popularity throughout 2010, performing for larger audiences and making their first network television appearances in the U.S. In December 2010, the band received two Grammy Award nominations, one for Best New Artist and the other for Best Rock Song ("Little Lion Man"). They won the ARIA Music Award for Most Popular International Artist in 2010 and the British Award in 2011 for Best British Album. In 2011 they received an European Border Breakers Award for their international success.

John Legend

John Roger Stephens, better known as John Legend, is the recipient of nine Grammy Awards, and in 2007, he received the special Starlight award from the Songwriters Hall of Fame. Legend was a child prodigy whose grandmother taught him how to play the piano. He attended the University of Pennsylvania where he directed a coed a cappella group. After graduation, he switched gears and worked for Boston Consulting Group but continued to perform in nightclubs in New York City. Legend became an in-demand session musician and songwriter, working with such artists as Alicia Keys, Twista and Janet Jackson. Legend's debut album, 2004's Get Lifted, went platinum. He won three Grammy Awards for Get Lifted: Best R&B Album, Best R&B Male Vocal Performance and Best New Artist. Legend's sophomore effort, Once Again, was released in 2006.

ORLANDO

2/11/12

Christian Castro, Green Entrepreneur, 2011 White House Champion of Change

Chris is a 2011 Champion of Change and is a green social entrepreneur with a focus in Environmental Sciences, Clean Energy technologies and incorporating Sustainability. He graduated from the University of Central and through his years as an undergrad, he Co-Founded an International youth-led sustainability movement at universities, K-12 schools and communities around the World called IDEAS (Intellectual Decisions on Environmental Awareness Solutions) and continues to work with a network of youth leaders across the nation to facilitate positive environmental change.

Lora Gilbert, Senior Director of Food and Nutrition Services, Orange County Public Schools Lora Gilbert, a Registered Dietician, is the Senior Director of Food and Nutrition Services for the Orange County Public Schools (OCPS) where she provides access to quality nutritious meals to enhance and support all students' and educators' ability to achieve academic excellence while forming healthy life-long eating habits. As a part of the OCPS Wellness Policy, she works closely with schools and Healthy School Teams to provide an overall school environment for children that promotes good health.

Debra Susie, Executive Director of Florida Impact, Tallahassee, Florida

Debra Susie, Ph.D., Executive Director of Florida Impact for 26 years, has been dedicated to reducing hunger and poverty in Florida through her organization's mission to inspire and enlist the people of Florida to secure justice for and with those whose economic rights have not been realized. Florida Impact played a role in passage of the Willie Ann Glenn (Children's Summer Nutrition) Act, a law to ensure federal summer food sites near all elementary schools in low-income neighborhoods, and in securing a state mandate to require all of Florida's elementary schools to offer the federal School Breakfast Program.

Andrea Hildebrand, Executive Director, Green Florida

Andrea is a writer and organizer who has worked extensively in the community gardening and urban agriculture movements. She is the E.D. of Green Florida, a non-profit dedicated to creating community gardens and helping neighborhoods organize for the transition to a green economy.

Andrea is also active in the LGBT community and previously served as the Executive Director of the Kentucky Fairness Alliance, launching and serving within Kentucky's campaign against an anti-gay Constitutional amendment banning marriage and civil unions.

Joe Saunders, Field Director, Equality Florida

Joe leads Equality Florida's grassroots, electoral, and fundraising programs. He recently served as the Campaign Manager for "Equality is Gainesville's Business," a successful campaign to defeat an anti-gay charter amendment in Gainesville, FL. In 2008, he served as State Field Director for the campaign to defeat Florida's anti-marriage equality amendment.

Nancy Sharifi, Program Manager, Orange County

Nancy Sharifi works for Orange County government overseeing housing and community development projects. She helps to administer three Federal programs, including two stimulus funded programs and has seen firsthand. As a university professor, she teaches three courses in the Master of Public Administration at Anna Jimenez University System. As a mother of two college students, she is very concerned about the cost of college and therefore greatly appreciates the work the Administration has done to make college more affordable for all students.

Bexaida Franceschini, Orlando Latino community leader

Bexaida Franceschini has been a key organizer within the Puerto Rican community in Orlando, FL. In September 2011, Bexaida was the lead organizer for the Orlando White House Hispanic Community Action Summit. The event connected senior Obama Administration officials from diverse policy areas with community leaders, business owners, and other stakeholders to discuss issues critical to the Hispanic community. Bexaida was also instrumental in supporting "Casa Obama" efforts in 2008.

Leticia Laureano, Union organizer for SEIU #1199 United Health Workers East

Leticia Laureano is an organizer with Service Employees International Union (SEIU) #1199 United Health Workers East in Osceola County. She is a nursing student and an active member in Labor Council for Latin American Advancement (LCLAA), an organization designed to bring together all the Latin American men and women union members in the United States. Leticia is also involved with El Centro Cultural de Puerto Rico (Puerto Rico Cultural Center) of South Florida.

Yanidsi Velez, Central Florida coordinator for Democracia Ahora

Yanidsi Velez is the Central Florida coordinator for Democracia Ahora, a grassroots nonprofit that aims to increase the prominence and participation of Hispanics in every aspect of the political process. Democracia Ahora is a project of National Council of La Raza, the largest Latino civil rights and advocacy organization with more than 300 affiliates nationwide. Yanidsi is an important emerging Latino community leader in Osceola County.

Jose La Luz, Associate Director of AFSCME's Leadership Academy

Jose La Luz is the founder of Servidores Publicos Unidos de PR Council 95 AFSCME, veteran community and labor organizer. He has worked to mobilize Latino voters in several states with high Latino density and in the I-4 in the last three election cycles. He led the Fuerza Hispana: Voto Decisivo campaign in ORANGE AND Osceola Counties in 2008.

ORLANDO

2/11/12

Christian Castro, Green Entrepreneur, 2011 White House Champion of Change

Chris is a 2011 Champion of Change and is a green social entrepreneur with a focus in Environmental Sciences, Clean Energy technologies and incorporating Sustainability. He graduated from the University of Central and through his years as an undergrad, he Co-Founded an International youth-led sustainability movement at universities, K-12 schools and communities around the World called IDEAS (Intellectual Decisions on Environmental Awareness Solutions) and continues to work with a network of youth leaders across the nation to facilitate positive environmental change.

Lora Gilbert, Senior Director of Food and Nutrition Services, Orange County Public Schools Lora Gilbert, a Registered Dietician, is the Senior Director of Food and Nutrition Services for the Orange County Public Schools (OCPS) where she provides access to quality nutritious meals to enhance and support all students' and educators' ability to achieve academic excellence while forming healthy life-long eating habits. As a part of the OCPS Wellness Policy, she works closely with schools and Healthy School Teams to provide an overall school environment for children that promotes good health.

Debra Susie, Executive Director of Florida Impact, Tallahassee, Florida

Debra Susie, Ph.D., Executive Director of Florida Impact for 26 years, has been dedicated to reducing hunger and poverty in Florida through her organization's mission to inspire and enlist the people of Florida to secure justice for and with those whose economic rights have not been realized. Florida Impact played a role in passage of the Willie Ann Glenn (Children's Summer Nutrition) Act, a law to ensure federal summer food sites near all elementary schools in low-income neighborhoods, and in securing a state mandate to require all of Florida's elementary schools to offer the federal School Breakfast Program.

Andrea Hildebrand, Executive Director, Green Florida

Andrea is a writer and organizer who has worked extensively in the community gardening and urban agriculture movements. She is the E.D. of Green Florida, a non-profit dedicated to creating community gardens and helping neighborhoods organize for the transition to a green economy.

Andrea is also active in the LGBT community and previously served as the Executive Director of the Kentucky Fairness Alliance, launching and serving within Kentucky's campaign against an anti-gay Constitutional amendment banning marriage and civil unions.

Joe Saunders, Field Director, Equality Florida

Joe leads Equality Florida's grassroots, electoral, and fundraising programs. He recently served as the Campaign Manager for "Equality is Gainesville's Business," a successful campaign to defeat an anti-gay charter amendment in Gainesville, FL. In 2008, he served as State Field Director for the campaign to defeat Florida's anti-marriage equality amendment.

Nancy Sharifi, Program Manager, Orange County

Nancy Sharifi works for Orange County government overseeing housing and community development projects. She helps to administer three Federal programs, including two stimulus funded programs and has seen firsthand. As a university professor, she teaches three courses in the Master of Public Administration at Anna Jimenez University System. As a mother of two college students, she is very concerned about the cost of college and therefore greatly appreciates the work the Administration has done to make college more affordable for all students.

Bexaida Franceschini, Orlando Latino community leader

Bexaida Franceschini has been a key organizer within the Puerto Rican community in Orlando, FL. In September 2011, Bexaida was the lead organizer for the Orlando White House Hispanic Community Action Summit. The event connected senior Obama Administration officials from diverse policy areas with community leaders, business owners, and other stakeholders to discuss issues critical to the Hispanic community. Bexaida was also instrumental in supporting "Casa Obama" efforts in 2008.

Leticia Laureano, Union organizer for SEIU #1199 United Health Workers East

Leticia Laureano is an organizer with Service Employees International Union (SEIU) #1199 United Health Workers East in Osceola County. She is a nursing student and an active member in Labor Council for Latin American Advancement (LCLAA), an organization designed to bring together all the Latin American men and women union members in the United States. Leticia is also involved with El Centro Cultural de Puerto Rico (Puerto Rico Cultural Center) of South Florida.

Yanidsi Velez, Central Florida coordinator for Democracia Ahora

Yanidsi Velez is the Central Florida coordinator for Democracia Ahora, a

grassroots nonprofit that aims to increase the prominence and participation of Hispanics in every aspect of the political process. Democracia Ahora is a project of National Council of La Raza, the largest Latino civil rights and advocacy organization with more than 300 affiliates nationwide. Yanidsi is an important emerging Latino community leader in Osceola County.

Jose La Luz, Associate Director of AFSCME's Leadership Academy

Jose La Luz is the founder of Servidores Publicos Unidos de PR Council 95 AFSCME, veteran community and labor organizer. He has worked to mobilize Latino voters in several states with high Latino density and in the I-4 in the last three election cycles. He led the Fuerza Hispana: Voto Decisivo campaign in ORANGE AND Osceola Counties in 2008.

I don't need any of the security info for your guests – only full names.

Tickets are for the 2:10 pm and 4:20 pm time slot. When you submit your names, please indicate which time slot you are interested in.

Thanks

Subject: 2011 White House Easter Egg Roll

The 2011 Easter Egg Roll will take place on Monday, April 25th on the South Lawn of the White House. The event will feature live music, sports courts, cooking stations, storytelling and, of course, Easter egg rolling. The Easter Egg Roll promotes healthy and active living and is designed for children 12 years of age and under.

All attendees need a ticket, including children of all ages.

In an effort to reduce the large crowds of past years, the White House has significantly reduced the number of tickets distributed for this event.

30 tickets total have been allocated for all of you. Can you please send me the following information for each guest no later than Monday, April 18:

Full first, middle and last name

Date of birth

Social security number

Gender

Country of birth

City and State of current residence

Additional information about the 2011 Easter Egg Roll can be found at

Subject: Tickets for Germany State Arrival Ceremony (6/7)

Hello team,

On Tuesday, June 7th, there will be a State Arrival Ceremony for the Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, Dr. Angela Merkel, on the South Lawn of the White House. We have some extra spots and are able to reserve them on a first come, first serve basis. If you would like to attend the ceremony and/or invite friends and family to attend, please send me the WAVES information using the attached spreadsheet as soon as possible. We will need this information no later than this Friday at 5pm.

It's very important that all guests are respectful of the ceremony, so please only submit people for whom you are able to vouch. We advise you not to invite out of town guests as the ceremony will be cancelled in the event of inclement weather. The official invitation is attached and pasted below.

Thanks!

The President and Mrs. Obama
invite you to attend the
ARRIVAL CEREMONY
honoring
Her Excellency
Dr. Angela Merkel
Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany
to be held at
The White House
on Tuesday, June 7, 2011

Gate opens at 6:45 a.m. and closes promptly at 8:00 a.m.
Please enter at the Southeast gate,
15th Street and E Street, NW.

The ceremony will be held outside on the South Lawn.
In case of inclement weather, this event will be cancelled.
Please call \(202\) 456-7041456-7041) for further information
after 8:00 a.m. on Monday, June 6.

Lora Gilbert, Senior Director of Food and Nutrition Services, Orange County Public Schools Lora Gilbert, a Registered Dietician, is the Senior Director of Food and Nutrition Services for the Orange County Public Schools (OCPS) where she provides access to quality nutritious meals to enhance and support all students' and educators' ability to achieve academic excellence while forming healthy life-long eating habits. As a part of the OCPS Wellness Policy, she works closely with schools and Healthy School Teams to provide an overall school environment for children that promotes good health.

Debra Susie, Executive Director of Florida Impact, Tallahassee, Florida

Debra Susie, Ph.D., Executive Director of Florida Impact for 26 years, has been dedicated to reducing hunger and poverty in Florida through her organization's mission to inspire and enlist the people of Florida to secure justice for and with those whose economic rights have not been realized. Florida Impact played a role in passage of the Willie Ann Glenn (Children's Summer Nutrition) Act, a law to ensure federal summer food sites near all elementary schools in low-income neighborhoods, and in securing a state mandate to require all of Florida's elementary schools to offer the federal School Breakfast Program.

Andrea Hildebrand, Executive Director, Green Florida

Andrea is a writer and organizer who has worked extensively in the community gardening and urban agriculture movements. She is the E.D. of Green Florida, a non-profit dedicated to creating community gardens and helping neighborhoods organize for the transition to a green economy.

Andrea is also active in the LGBT community and previously served as the Executive Director of the Kentucky Fairness Alliance, launching and serving within Kentucky's campaign against an anti-gay Constitutional amendment banning marriage and civil unions.

Joe Saunders, Field Director, Equality Florida

Joe leads Equality Florida's grassroots, electoral, and fundraising programs. He recently served as the Campaign Manager for "Equality is Gainesville's Business," a successful campaign to defeat an anti-gay charter amendment in Gainesville, FL. In 2008, he served as State Field Director for the campaign to defeat Florida's anti-marriage equality amendment.

Nancy Sharifi, Program Manager, Orange County

Nancy Sharifi works for Orange County government overseeing housing and community development projects. She helps to administer three Federal programs, including two stimulus funded programs and has seen firsthand. As a university professor, she teaches three courses in the Master of Public Administration at Anna Jimenez University System. As a mother of two college students, she is very concerned about the cost of college and therefore greatly appreciates the work the Administration has done to make college more affordable for all students.

Bexaida Franceschini, Orlando Latino community leader

Bexaida Franceschini has been a key organizer within the Puerto Rican community in Orlando, FL. In September 2011, Bexaida was the lead organizer for the Orlando White House Hispanic Community Action Summit. The event connected senior Obama Administration officials from diverse policy areas with community leaders, business owners, and other stakeholders to discuss issues critical to the Hispanic community. Bexaida was also instrumental in supporting "Casa Obama" efforts in 2008.

Leticia Laureano, Union organizer for SEIU #1199 United Health Workers East

Leticia Laureano is an organizer with Service Employees International Union (SEIU) #1199 United Health Workers East in Osceola County. She is a nursing student and an active member in Labor Council for Latin American Advancement (LCLAA), an organization designed to bring together all the Latin American men and women union members in the United States. Leticia is also involved with El Centro Cultural de Puerto Rico (Puerto Rico Cultural Center) of South Florida.

Yanidsi Velez, Central Florida coordinator for Democracia Ahora

Yanidsi Velez is the Central Florida coordinator for Democracia Ahora, a

grassroots nonprofit that aims to increase the prominence and participation of Hispanics in every aspect of the political process. Democracia Ahora is a project of National Council of La Raza, the largest Latino civil rights and advocacy organization with more than 300 affiliates nationwide. Yanidsi is an important emerging Latino community leader in Osceola County.

Jose La Luz, Associate Director of AFSCME's Leadership Academy

Jose La Luz is the founder of Servidores Publicos Unidos de PR Council 95 AFSCME, veteran community and labor organizer. He has worked to mobilize Latino voters in several states with high Latino density and in the I-4 in the last three election cycles. He led the Fuerza Hispana: Voto Decisivo campaign in ORANGE AND Osceola Counties in 2008.

Yes! We could probably use another 6-8 tickets if you can but if not we will take whatever you have to give away.

Thank you!

Subject: Tickets for Germany State Arrival Ceremony (6/7)

Hello team,

On Tuesday, June 7th, there will be a State Arrival Ceremony for the Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, Dr. Angela Merkel, on the South Lawn of the White House. We have some extra spots and are able to reserve them on a first come, first serve basis. If you would like to attend the ceremony and/or invite friends and family to attend, please send me the WAVES information using the attached spreadsheet as soon as possible. We will need this information no later than this Friday at 5pm.

It's very important that all guests are respectful of the ceremony, so please only submit people for whom you are able to vouch. We advise you not to invite out of town guests as the ceremony will be cancelled in the event of inclement weather. The official invitation is attached and pasted below.

Thanks!

The President and Mrs. Obama
invite you to attend the
ARRIVAL CEREMONY
honoring
Her Excellency
Dr. Angela Merkel
Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany
to be held at
The White House
on Tuesday, June 7, 2011

Gate opens at 6:45 a.m. and closes promptly at 8:00 a.m.
Please enter at the Southeast gate,
15th Street and E Street, NW.

The ceremony will be held outside on the South Lawn.
In case of inclement weather, this event will be cancelled.
Please call \(202\) 456-7041456-7041) for further information
after 8:00 a.m. on Monday, June 6.

Students Predicted Bin Laden's Location Two Years Ago

A UCLA geography class predicted in 2009 that there was an 88.9% chance that Osama bin Laden was hiding out in Abbottabad, Pakistan, where he was killed on Sunday, Science Insider reports.

"Based on information from satellites and other remote sensing systems, and reports on his movements since his last known location, the students created a probabilistic model of where he was likely to be. Their prediction of a town was based on a geographical theory called 'island biogeography': basically, that a species on a large island is much less likely to go extinct following a catastrophic event than a species on a small one."

Re: Any need for additional Easter Egg Roll tickets?

Thx M no big deal either way- everyone asks an then complains about the lines so I could care less about accommodating them just so they can complain afterwards.

Sorry this took so long to get to you. We'd appreciate it if you could pass it on to
Mr. Biden.

Thanks, Ken

OBTAINED BY AMERICA FIRST LEGAL FOUNDATION THROUGH LITIGATION

March 23, 2011

Dear Mr. Biden,

On March 19, 1945 The USS Franklin was bombed 50 miles off the coast of Japan. The Franklin was an aircraft carrier with over 50 planes that were armed and/or fueled on the decks. The ship was dead in the water, had no radio communication and was enveloped in fire. There were 724 casualties and 265 wounded that morning. To this day, the USS Franklin is the most decorated ship in the history of the United States Navy.

Now, 66 years later the survivors and their families still gather every year. This year our reunion will be in the Chicago area from May 12th-15th. On May 13th we will be spending the day at the Great Lakes Naval Base where there is a hall dedicated to the USS Franklin. As the years go by, the reunions are getting smaller and we don't know how long they will last. The 2010 reunion in Branson had 35 crew members and 165 people in attendance. This year there are some 1st time attendees coming to Chicago, even one who was a crew member. For some, it may be the last reunion they attend. So, we are doing everything we can to make it special and memorable for all that attend.

The reason we are writing is to ask your help to honor these American heroes in whatever way you can. Whether it is a letter thanking them for their service, an autographed picture or anything else that you could do. We would really appreciate anything you could provide for our reunion. Thank you for your time.

We want to thank you for your support of Amtrak and future high speed rail projects.

Sincerely,

Ken and April Homko

Smith, Michele

Dear Jimmy,

Sorry this took so long to get to you. We'd appreciate it if you could pass it on to
Mr. Biden.

Thanks, Ken

OBTAINED BY AMERICA FIRST LEGAL FOUNDATION THROUGH LITIGATION

March 23, 2011

Dear Mr. Biden,

On March 19, 1945 The USS Franklin was bombed 50 miles off the coast of Japan. The Franklin was an aircraft carrier with over 50 planes that were armed and/or fueled on the decks. The ship was dead in the water, had no radio communication and was enveloped in fire. There were 724 casualties and 265 wounded that morning. To this day, the USS Franklin is the most decorated ship in the history of the United States Navy.

Now, 66 years later the survivors and their families still gather every year. This year our reunion will be in the Chicago area from May 12th-15th. On May 13th we will be spending the day at the Great Lakes Naval Base where there is a hall dedicated to the USS Franklin. As the years go by, the reunions are getting smaller and we don't know how long they will last. The 2010 reunion in Branson had 35 crew members and 165 people in attendance. This year there are some 1st time attendees coming to Chicago, even one who was a crew member. For some, it may be the last reunion they attend. So, we are doing everything we can to make it special and memorable for all that attend.

The reason we are writing is to ask your help to honor these American heroes in whatever way you can. Whether it is a letter thanking them for their service, an autographed picture or anything else that you could do. We would really appreciate anything you could provide for our reunion. Thank you for your time.

We want to thank you for your support of Amtrak and future high speed rail projects.

Sincerely,

Ken and April Homko

David Bohnett's many awards and distinctions include Los Angeles Business Journal's Technology Leader of the Year, Time Digital's Top 50 Cyber Elite, and Entrepreneur of the Year for Southern California. Mr. Bohnett maintains residences in Los Angeles and New York City.

Deborah Borda, President and CEO, Los Angeles Philharmonic Association

Borda heads one of the largest music organizations in the United States. She is responsible for the artistic, administrative, and technical operations of the Philharmonic at Walt Disney Concert Hall and the Hollywood Bowl, as well as the presentation of close to 300 concerts annually at these iconic venues. Borda has created groundbreaking educational programs and school partnerships, forging strong bonds with the greater Los Angeles community by making music more accessible to new generations of concertgoers. Following graduate studies at the Royal College of Music in London, she enjoyed an active performing career. She has chaired the Music Panel of both the National Endowment for the Arts and the Major American Orchestra Managers Group. Borda has also been featured in numerous national publications and television news programs.

Gerrett Copeland, Proprietor and Chairman, Bouchaine Vineyards

Longtime friends of yours and Dr. Biden, Copeland and his wife Tatiana, own the oldest winery in the Carneros region, Château Bouchaine. Prior to his involvement with Bouchaine winery, Gerret developed a successful New York Stock Exchange brokerage firm which he sold to Dean Witter. He resides in Wilmington, Delaware, where he is very involved with environmental causes. He helped establish The Brandywine Conservancy and its Environmental Management Center in Pennsylvania, which protects the Brandywine River Valley from pollution and over-development. For 10 years, as director of the Environmental Management Center, he assisted in preserving thousands of acres of open land in Pennsylvania and Delaware. Gerret currently serves as Chairman of the Delaware Art Museum. His father, Lammot du Pont Copeland, was the 11th president of the DuPont Company.

Tatiana Copeland, Owner and President, Tebec Associates Limited

Copeland is the owner and president of Tebec Associates Limited, a firm which specializes in financial and tax planning, and is the owner and president of The Wine & Spirit Company, co-owner and president of Bouchaine Vineyards, Inc., and co-owner and vice president of Rokeby Realty Company. She was previously employed as a manager in the International Department of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. in Wilmington. Mrs. Copeland and her husband were honored in 2005 as the largest individual donors to the Delaware Art Museum's capital campaign. The great-niece of renowned Russian composer Sergei Rachmaninoff, Mrs. Copeland is well known for her support of the musical arts in Delaware. She earned a B.S. in Accounting from the University of California at Los Angeles, graduating summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, and an M.B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley. She speaks several languages fluently, including Russian, French, German, Italian, and Spanish. Mrs. Copeland was knighted in 1991 by The Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia with The Order of St. Michael the Archangel.

Dr. Amy Gutmann, President, University of Pennsylvania

Gutmann also serves as Browne Distinguished Professor of Political Science in the School of Arts and Sciences at Penn with secondary faculty appointments in Philosophy, the Annenberg School for Communication, and the Graduate School of Education. Appointed in 2009 by President Barack Obama, Gutmann chairs the Presidential Commission for the Study of Bioethical Issues. She also serves on the National Commission on the Humanities and Social Sciences, and on the Boards of the National Constitution Center, the Carnegie Corporation, and the Vanguard Group. Gutmann is a founding member of the Global Colloquium of the University Presidents, which advises the Secretary General of the U.N. on a range of issues, including the social responsibility of universities. Prior to her appointment as Penn's President, Gutmann served as Provost at Princeton University. She earned her master's degree in Political Science from the London School of Economics and her doctorate in Political Science from Harvard University. She is married to Michael W. ## ENTERTAINMENT

Mumford & Sons

Mumford & Sons are a British folk rock band. The band consists of Marcus Mumford, Ben Lovett, Country Winston Marshall, and Ted Dwane. Mumford & Sons recorded an EP, Love Your Ground, and toured extensively in Ireland to expose audiences to their music and build support for an eventual album. Their debut album, Sigh No More, was released in the UK and Ireland in October 2009 and in the United States on February 2010. The album reached number one in Ireland, Australia and New Zealand and peaked at number two on the UK Album Chart and the Billboard 200 in the US. The band gained popularity throughout 2010, performing for larger audiences and making their first network television appearances in the U.S. In December 2010, the band received two Grammy Award nominations, one for Best New Artist and the other for Best Rock Song ("Little Lion Man"). They won the ARIA Music Award for Most Popular International Artist in 2010 and the British Award in 2011 for Best British Album. In 2011 they received an European Border Breakers Award for their international success.

John Legend

John Roger Stephens, better known as John Legend, is the recipient of nine Grammy Awards, and in 2007, he received the special Starlight award from the Songwriters Hall of Fame. Legend was a child prodigy whose grandmother taught him how to play the piano. He attended the University of Pennsylvania where he directed a coed a cappella group. After graduation, he switched gears and worked for Boston Consulting Group but continued to perform in nightclubs in New York City. Legend became an in-demand session musician and songwriter, working with such artists as Alicia Keys, Twista and Janet Jackson. Legend's debut album, 2004's Get Lifted, went platinum. He won three Grammy Awards for Get Lifted: Best R&B Album, Best R&B Male Vocal Performance and Best New Artist. Legend's sophomore effort, Once Again, was released in 2006.

YOUR INVITED GUESTS

Hunter and Kathleen Biden

Mr. David Bohnett, Chair, The David Bohnett Foundation

Bohnett is a philanthropist and technology entrepreneur committed to effecting positive change through community building and social activism. In addition to serving as Chair of the David Bohnett Foundation, he is Chairman of the Board of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Association and Trustee of amfAR (The Foundation for AIDS Research) and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA). Since 1999, the David Bohnett Foundation has provided funding, state-of-the-art technology and technical support to hundreds of innovative organizations and institutions. David Bohnett's many awards and distinctions include Los Angeles Business Journal's Technology Leader of the Year, Time Digital's Top 50 Cyber Elite, and Entrepreneur of the Year for Southern California. Mr. Bohnett maintains residences in Los Angeles and New York City.

Deborah Borda, President and CEO, Los Angeles Philharmonic Association

Borda heads one of the largest music organizations in the United States. She is responsible for the artistic, administrative, and technical operations of the Philharmonic at Walt Disney Concert Hall and the Hollywood Bowl, as well as the presentation of close to 300 concerts annually at these iconic venues. Borda has created groundbreaking educational programs and school partnerships, forging strong bonds with the greater Los Angeles community by making music more accessible to new generations of concertgoers. Following graduate studies at the Royal College of Music in London, she enjoyed an active performing career. She has chaired the Music Panel of both the National Endowment for the Arts and the Major American Orchestra Managers Group. Borda has also been featured in numerous national publications and television news programs.

Gerrett Copeland, Proprietor and Chairman, Bouchaine Vineyards

Longtime friends of yours and Dr. Biden, Copeland and his wife Tatiana, own the oldest winery in the Carneros region, Château Bouchaine. Prior to his involvement with Bouchaine winery, Gerret developed a successful New York Stock Exchange brokerage firm which he sold to Dean Witter. He resides in Wilmington, Delaware, where he is very involved with environmental causes. He helped establish The Brandywine Conservancy and its Environmental Management Center in Pennsylvania, which protects the Brandywine River Valley from pollution and over-development. For 10 years, as director of the Environmental Management Center, he assisted in preserving thousands of acres of open land in Pennsylvania and Delaware. Gerret currently serves as Chairman of the Delaware Art Museum. His father, Lammot du Pont Copeland, was the 11th president of the DuPont Company.

Tatiana Copeland, Owner and President, Tebec Associates Limited

Copeland is the owner and president of Tebec Associates Limited, a firm which specializes in financial and tax planning, and is the owner and president of The Wine & Spirit Company, co-owner and president of Bouchaine Vineyards, Inc., and co-owner and vice president of Rokeby Realty Company. She was previously employed as a manager in the International Department of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. in Wilmington. Mrs. Copeland and her husband were honored in 2005 as the largest individual donors to the Delaware Art Museum's capital campaign. The great-niece of renowned Russian composer Sergei Rachmaninoff, Mrs. Copeland is well known for her support of the musical arts in Delaware. She earned a B.S. in Accounting from the University of California at Los Angeles, graduating summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, and an M.B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley. She speaks several languages fluently, including Russian, French, German, Italian, and Spanish. Mrs. Copeland was knighted in 1991 by The Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia with The Order of St. Michael the Archangel.

Dr. Amy Gutmann, President, University of Pennsylvania

Gutmann also serves as Browne Distinguished Professor of Political Science in the School of Arts and Sciences at Penn with secondary faculty appointments in Philosophy, the Annenberg School for Communication, and the Graduate School of Education. Appointed in 2009 by President Barack Obama, Gutmann chairs the Presidential Commission for the Study of Bioethical Issues. She also serves on the National Commission on the Humanities and Social Sciences, and on the Boards of the National Constitution Center, the Carnegie Corporation, and the Vanguard Group. Gutmann is a founding member of the Global Colloquium of the University Presidents, which advises the Secretary General of the U.N. on a range of issues, including the social responsibility of universities. Prior to her appointment as Penn's President, Gutmann served as Provost at Princeton University. She earned her master's degree in Political Science from the London School of Economics and her doctorate in Political Science from Harvard University. She is married to Michael W. Doyle, the Harold Brown Professor of Law and International Affairs at Columbia University. Their daughter, Abigail Gutmann Doyle, is an Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University.

Dr. Michael W. Doyle, Harold Brown Professor of International Affairs, Law and Political Science at Columbia University

Doyle studied at the U.S. Air Force Academy for two years (and also qualified as a parachutist at Fort Benning) before transferring to Harvard University, where he earned his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. (in Political Science in 1977). He completed his military service in the Massachusetts Air National Guard. He directed the Center of International Studies at Princeton University and chaired the Editorial Board and the Committee of Editors of World Politics. He was the vice-president and senior fellow of the International Peace Academy and is now a member of its board of directors. He has also served as a member of the External Research Advisory Committee of the UNHCR and the Advisory Committee of the Lessons-Learned Unit of the Department of Peace-Keeping Operations (UN). In 2001-2003, he served as Assistant Secretary-General and Special Adviser to United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan. Michael Doyle is married to Amy Gutmann.

The Hon. Ted Kaufman, Former U.S. Senator, State of Delaware, longtime friend and advisor to the Vice President

Kaufman represented Delaware in the United States Senate from Jan. 16, 2009 to Nov. 15, 2010, after which he became chair of the Congressional Oversight Panel. Kaufman has taught at Duke Law

School since 1991; he also has taught in the Fuqua School of Business, and the Sanford School of Public Policy. From 1995 to 1999, Kaufman served as co-chair of the Law School's Center for the Study of Congress and he regularly teaches in the Duke in D.C. program. In 1995, Kaufman was appointed by President Clinton and confirmed by the U.S. Senate as a charter member of the Broadcasting Board of Governors. He was with Sen. Joseph R. Biden's staff from 1973 through 1994, and spent nineteen years as chief of staff. He previously worked for the Dupont Company in a variety of finance, technical, and marketing positions. He has a BSME from Duke University and an MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Lynne Kaufman, Spouse of The Hon. Ted Kaufman

Kaufman has been married to former Sen. Ted Kaufman since 1960 and they reside in Wilmington, Delaware. They have three daughters, Kelly, Murry and Meg and 7 grandchildren.

Mrs. Janet MacGilvray, Long-time supporter from West Islip, NY

She has been married to James MacGilvray for 45 years and currently resides in West Islip, NY. She has four children.

Mr. James P. MacGilvray, JP Mac LLC, CEO

MacGilvray is well known in the financial world, having served in senior management positions at UBS, PaineWebber and Fidelity. He serves on the boards of the Ronald McDonald House, NY; New York Foundling Hospital; the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation; and the Patrons Program for the Inner-City Schools. His wife of 45 years, Mrs. Janet MacGilvray, is also in attendance.

Dr. Robert Rosenwasser, Chairman of Neurosurgery, Thomas Jefferson University Hospital

Rosenwasser is recognized as one of the world leaders uniquely specialized as both a cerebrovascular neurosurgeon trained by Drs. Charles Drake and Skip Peerless as well as an interventional neuroradiologist trained by Dr. Alex Berenstein. Dr. Rosenwasser also performs all the radiosurgical treatments of arteriovenous malformations (AVMs) in the Division.

Dr. Deborah August, Anesthesiologist

August is an anesthesiologist in Philadelphia, PA. She is certified by the American Board of Anesthesiology and is married to Dr. Robert Rosenwasser.

Mr. George Tsunis, President, George Tsunis Real Estate

Prior to founding Chartwell Hotels, Tsunis was a partner at the law firm of Rivkin Radler LLP, Long Island's largest law firm. Tsunis currently serves as a member of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocesan Council of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of the United States and a member of its Faith Endowment. As an Archon of the Ecumenical Patriarchate Order of Saint Andrew he serves on its National Council. He is also a member of the Brookings Institution's Foreign Policy Leadership Committee and its Metropolitan Leadership Council and has previously served as a Trustee at Dowling College and the Board of Visitors at Touro Law School. Tsunis received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from New York University and his Juris Doctor from St. John's University School of Law. Mr. Tsunis and his wife Olga live on Long Island, New York with their three children.

Dr. Olga J. Tsunis

Tsunis attended New York University for both her undergraduate and graduate studies. She graduated with a Bachelor Degree in Physical Therapy in 1995 and started working at Mount Sinai Hospital treating patients with various dysfunctions. She received a Doctoral Degree in 2002 and specialized in rehabilitating patients with neurological impairments at New York Presbyterian Hospital. She is a mother of 3 and has been a stay at home mom since her son was born in 2007.

ENTERTAINMENT

Mumford & Sons

Mumford & Sons are a British folk rock band. The band consists of Marcus Mumford, Ben Lovett, Country Winston Marshall, and Ted Dwane. Mumford & Sons recorded an EP, Love Your Ground, and toured extensively in Ireland to expose audiences to their music and build support for an eventual album. Their debut album, Sigh No More, was released in the UK and Ireland in October 2009 and in the United States on February 2010. The album reached number one in Ireland, Australia and New Zealand and peaked at number two on the UK Album Chart and the Billboard 200 in the US. The band gained popularity throughout 2010, performing for larger audiences and making their first network television appearances in the U.S. In December 2010, the band received two Grammy Award nominations, one for Best New Artist and the other for Best Rock Song ("Little Lion Man"). They won the ARIA Music Award for Most Popular International Artist in 2010 and the British Award in 2011 for Best British Album. In 2011 they received an European Border Breakers Award for their international success.

John Legend

John Roger Stephens, better known as John Legend, is the recipient of nine Grammy Awards, and in 2007, he received the special Starlight award from the Songwriters Hall of Fame. Legend was a child prodigy whose grandmother taught him how to play the piano. He attended the University of Pennsylvania where he directed a coed a cappella group. After graduation, he switched gears and worked for Boston Consulting Group but continued to perform in nightclubs in New York City. Legend became an in-demand session musician and songwriter, working with such artists as Alicia Keys, Twista and Janet Jackson. Legend's debut album, 2004's Get Lifted, went platinum. He won three Grammy Awards for Get Lifted: Best R&B Album, Best R&B Male Vocal Performance and Best New Artist. Legend's sophomore effort, Once Again, was released in 2006.

Michele,
Could you please have the VP sign the photo attached? The picture is of Brandon Leach, son of Rick Leach who is the President & CEO of World Food Program USA. Rick has become a close friend of Hunter's as Hunter traveled to Kenya with him and WFP USA and H will soon be named Chairman of their Board. The VP also spoke at WFP USA event back in October.

Thanks!

Hi all,

Attached is the latest list for the Luncheon.

There are 177 Accepts, 83 regrets, and 91 no responses.

I've noted to State Department the following:

Fred Hochberg is listed twice

Bob Iger, Sam Haywood, and Sofia Pagoni should be accepts

Rory MacFarquhar's name is spelled incorrectly and is not Roy

Evan's first name is Evan and not "Ms. Evan"

Let me know if I missed any other errors.

Thanks!

Ash
