Sir --

This is the only announcement we do -- now it does go to a broad distro. Hunter was notified last week of his selection, as were the other selectees. We did not post anything on the web -- we traditionally do not for the selectees and there is no Navy Message. This is consistent with how we release these types of selections.

We were in contact with Hunter this week, letting him know when the below would be announced, and have talked with him today regarding the media's questions. He has our News Desk phone number and cell, and knows who to push reporters to as he is contacted. Feel we're in a good spot with him.

Hunter, [REDACTED]

FOIA-6

Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

[REDACTED]

Thanks again,

Tim

FOIA-6

Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the Pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

FOIA-6

Thanks again,
Tim

Sir --

This is the only announcement we do -- now it does go to a broad distro. Hunter was notified last week of his selection, as were the other selectees. We did not post anything on the web -- we traditionally do not for the selectees and there is no Navy Message. This is consistent with how we release these types of selections.

We were in contact with Hunter this week, letting him know when the below would be announced, and have talked with him today regarding the media's questions. He has our News Desk phone number and cell, and knows who to push reporters to as he is contacted. Feel we're in a good spot with him.

Taking the poverty challenge

By Emily Goodin - 04/23/13 07:45 PM ET

Hunter Biden is joining actors Ben Affleck, Sophia Bush, Josh Groban and Debi Mazar in limiting themselves to $1.50 a day for food.

It's part of the Live Below the Line project, which raises awareness about extreme poverty.

For Biden, the second son of Vice President Biden, it means no coffee.

"Forget the coffee," he told The Hill. "If you think about it, how do you do coffee?"

"Rice, beans and water seems to be the only way," he said.

Live Below the Line is an initiative of the Global Poverty Project that asks people to live on $1.50, about the cost of a can of soda, for at least one day between April 29 and May 3.

Biden is going to try to make it all five days, which would give him a total of $7.50 to spend on food for that time period.

"I am nervous," he admitted. "The truth of the matter is, if you think about it, $1.50 as individual — you really have to plan. You have to really figure out how to do that."

He's trying to get his three daughters — ages 19, 14 and 12 — to join him for a least a day.

"They have to go to school. They have a more rigorous day than I do because they go to school and play sports," he said.

It is his first time taking part in the project. He serves as the chairman of World Food Program USA, which led to his participation in Live Below the Line. "It's a cause I just feel very firmly about," he said.

Biden will be tweeting about his experiences at @HunterBiden.

The project aims not just to raise awareness of extreme poverty but to fundraise for partner organizations like the World Food Program USA, Happy Hearts Fund and the Eastern Congo Initiative. The group estimates that 1.4 billion people in the world live in extreme poverty.

Donations can be made at livebelowtheline.com.

For others thinking of participating, the website offers tips, including doing the challenge in teams. It also warns participants that they cannot accept donated food from family or friends.

The idea was sparked in 2009 when Rich Fleming from the Global Poverty Project and Nick Allardice from the Oaktree Foundation in Australia were living together in a shared house and got to talking about poverty.

Fleming decided to live at the poverty level for three weeks and blogged about his experiences. He got a huge public reaction, and the Live Below the Line project was born.

Several celebrities have taken part in the campaign.

Groban was so moved by his experiences last year that he wrote a song, "Below the Line."

"Taking on this challenge last year was such a humbling experience for me," he said in a statement. "It's amazing how much we take for granted not having to live in hunger, and I am honored to have been asked to help spread the word about this eye-opening campaign again this year."

In 2012, more than 15,000 people participated and over $3 million was raised, according to Global Poverty Project's Michael Trainer.

Past participants include actors Hugh Jackman, Minka Kelly, Malin Akerman, Nick Lachey and Kevin Connolly.

Hunter, [REDACTED]

FOIA-6

Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the Pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

FOIA-6

Thanks again,
Tim

One year ago CSIS convened the Executive Council on Development – a bipartisan group of leaders from government, business, NGOs, and philanthropy – to explore how the U.S. government and private sector can work together to support the economic success of developing countries. In their final report, Our Shared Opportunity: A Vision for Global Prosperity, the Council provides a targeted set of recommendations for the U.S. government and private sector, calling for a greater reliance on business, trade, and investment tools to achieve better development outcomes. The report is part of CSIS’ Project on U.S. Leadership in Development, a partnership with the Chevron Corporation launched in 2011.

Subject: Info on Tammy's dad

Hunter, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the Pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

Thanks again,

Tim

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Hi everyone-

This year, we have 25 slots for each of the White House Holiday Open Houses below.

- Saturday, December 8th at 6PM

- Friday, December 21st at 7PM

This is similar to an East Wing tour, but guests will be able to enjoy musical entertainment along the standard tour route and see the White House while it is fully decorated. Cameras ARE permitted.

If you can think of anyone you'd like me to invite, please send me their email address or phone number by the end of the week. I have to get their security information to Secret Service by next Wednesday.

Thanks!

Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the Pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

POLITICO Morning Energy

By Alex Guillen / November 26, 2013

SON OF BIDEN MAY BE FISHER CREDITOR: Fisher Automotive's bankruptcy filing on Friday had a huge 669-page list of creditors, and among them is Robert Hunter Biden, a son of Vice President Joe Biden, according to GigaOm. The website hasn't confirmed that it is, indeed, the same Biden, and he could be an investor in the company, or just a customer who is owed some deposit money. But Biden's connection could turn into a minor headache for the Obama administration, which ultimately lost $139 million on a loan to the California automaker. Other notable names on Fisher's creditors list include Al Gore, Bloom Energy CEO KR Sridhar, NRG Energy CEO David Crane, and venture capitalist Marc Andreessen, as well as celebrities Leonardo DeCaprio, Don Cheadle and Andre Agassi, according to GigaOm: <http://bit.ly/IdZIGf>

Full Gigaom.com article:

Beleaguered electric car maker Fisher Automotive finally filed for bankruptcy late on Friday, many months after expected, and over a year since it made its last car. While the bankruptcy has been expected for a long time, this is one of the first times the public has been able to see Fisher's very long list of creditors — 669 pages long, with an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 creditors.

Creditors are individuals and companies to which Fisher owes money, so the list includes vendors as well as investors. It could also include people that put down deposits for cars and never received a car, or people who bought a car from Fisher and for whatever reason are still owed money. At this point it's hard to tell which creditors are involved with what part of the business and for how much, but what we do know is that there are a lot of well-known names on that creditor list.

One of the more interesting creditors is "Robert Hunter BIDEN," who appears to be the son of U.S. Vice President Joe BIDEN, and is also a Managing Partner with Rosemont Seneca. The name "Robert Hunter BIDEN" appears on the list of creditors, but not his investment firm's address or his personal home address. I've reached out to Rosemont Seneca to get more information.

If it's the same person, BIDEN could be an early investor or just a potential customer that is owed deposit money. BIDEN's connection to the company would be controversial news, though, because Fisker received (and mostly lost) a large loan from the U.S. Department of Energy, and claimed to be building a plant in BIDEN's home state of Delaware (but never built it).

Over a couple years, Fisker, through its broker Advanced Equities, took the unusual approach of raising small amounts of money from over a thousand wealthy individuals. So it looks like some of these personal investors appear on this creditor list. Those include Marc Benioff, CEO of Salesforce and Cisco CEO John Chambers. I previously heard that both Benioff and Chambers had been one of those thousand investors in Fisker through Advanced Equities, and earlier this year I reached out to both of them but never heard back.

Other high profile Silicon Valley executives on the creditor list include Nest CEO Tony Fadell, Bloom Energy CEO KR Sridhar, NRG Energy CEO David Crane, and venture capitalist Marc Andreessen. After being contacted for comment, Andreessen said he was not an investor in Fisker but had put down a $5,000 deposit when Fisker first launched. A spokesperson for Nest refused comment.

A big chunk of the Kleiner Perkin's partner team is listed as creditors including John Doerr, Ray Lane, Ben Kortlang, Brook Byers, Ted Schlein, and Trae Vassallo. Kleiner Perkins is one of Fisker's largest investors and actually owns 6.8 percent of the equity of Fisker in total. But one of the more surprising things that I learned through my reporting on Fisker is that venture capital executives sometimes used their personal funds to invest in the company. However, the Kleiner Partners could be customers or investors and the filing doesn't reveal the details.

Hollywood also got snared in the Fisker's hopes and dreams. Leonardo DiCaprio is listed as a creditor (it was already known that he was both an investor and a customer), but "Don Cheadle," (appears to be the actor) "Andre Agassi," and former Vice President Al Gore are also listed. Al Gore was one of the first customers to receive a Karma and also works with Kleiner Perkins. Ford's Motor's Executive Chairman Bill Ford Jr. also appears to be listed.

Along with the bankruptcy, Fisker is planning to sell its assets to a company called Hybrid Technology. Bloomberg reported Friday that Hybrid Technology is a group that includes the son of Hong Kong's richest man Richard Li. The assets are being sold at a $139 million loss to taxpayers as the Department of Energy gave Fisker a $192 million loan, and was able to recoup part of that. Fisker estimates that it has assets of between $100 million and $500 million according to the filing, and between $500 million to $1 billion in liabilities.

If you look at this list, one thing is clear: there's a lot of wealthy people who were willing to put down small amounts of money, and some very large amounts of money, into the dream of a startup building an electric car. While Fisker ended up burning through all of this money, its peer Tesla Motors has managed to survive and thrive with its Model S. Earlier this year I wrote this detailed article of Fisker's rise and fall.

Here's some of the more high profile names on Fisker's creditor's list:

- BMW, the largest claim, for $74 million — Fisker bought engines from BMW for its second car.
- Valmet Automotive, for $8.5 million — Valmet is the Finnish manufacturer of the Karma.
- New Castle County in Delaware, Fisker owes almost a million dollars in property taxes to Castle County, where it owned a factory space that it hoped to use to build its second car.
- Orrick, the San Francisco tech law firm has a claim on $845,000
- Al Gore, former U.S. Vice President, Kleiner Partner
- Andre Agassi (appears to own a Fisker Karma)
- Kleiner Partners, John Doerr, Ben Kortlang, Brook Byers, Ray Lane, Ted Schlein, Trae Vassallo
- NEA Partners, Scott Sandell, Ravi Viswanathan
- David Crane, NRG CEO and Fisker car owner
- Don Cheadle, appears to be the actor
- Hans Joachim Schopf, former executive vice president of DaimlerChrysler AG and head of Mercedes Car Group R&D
- KR Sridhar, CEO of Bloom Energy
- Leonardo Dicaprio, actor

- Marc Andreessen, Andreessen Horowitz Partner
- Marc Benioff, CEO of Salesforce, plus his The Marc R Benioff Revocable Trust
- Mindy Grossman, CEO of Home Shopping Network
- Richard Li, Hong Kong businessman, and reportedly part of a group that bought out the DOE's loan
- Richard Lowenthal, founder, CTO Chargepoint
- Robert Hunter BIDEN, appears to be the second son of U.S. Vice President Joe BIDEN, investor with Rosemont Seneca Technology Partners
- Ross Jaffe, Managing Director Versant Ventures
- Shervin Pishevar, co-founder and co-CEO of Sherpa Global, advisor to Menlo Ventures
- Tim Shriver, Chairman of the Special Olympics, and brother of Maria Shriver
- Tony Fadell, CEO of Nest
- William Ford Jr, Great-grandson of Henry Ford, and executive chairman of Ford Motor Company

Please see the request below. It is important to Hunter to have a letter written. Let me know if there is someone else I should send it to.

FOIA-6

Hunter, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

FOIA-6

Thanks again,
Tim

Hunter, [REDACTED]

Regarding Tammy's dad, Robert W. Thomas. DOB: 08-17-23. He went to Colorado School of Minds, Rensselaer U and finally U of Michigan as I believe the war may have "disrupted" his education. At some point he "joined/qualified for Mensa.

He worked as an electrical engineer for his entire career at Consumers Power in Grand Rapids. Commuting 45 miles each day from their home in Grand Haven, MI. He had 6 children, all of whom graduated college, one from Marquette, two from Michigan and three from Western Michigan.

He served in the US Navy...

Vh5 Air Sea Rescue

Vp 21 patrol

1944/1945. He flew a Pbm plane which was a rescue plane designed for water landing and take off. We know of at least two rescues he flew in the pacific as he received accommodations for the rescues.

I think his time in the Navy and in particular flying for the Navy was one of the more significant aspects of his life as he has spent many trips traveling to Navy bases since Tammy's mom passed. He is still today a licensed pilot having owned a twin engine plane for many many years.

I'm hoping that rather than waiting for the honor guard afforded him at his funeral, he can read a letter from the VPOTUS or letterhead that recognizes his exemplary life and service to our country.

Thanks again,
Tim

Sir --

This is the only announcement we do -- now it does go to a broad distro. Hunter was notified last week of his selection, as were the other selectees. We did not post anything on the web -- we traditionally do not for the selectees and there is no Navy Message. This is consistent with how we release these types of selections.

We were in contact with Hunter this week, letting him know when the below would be announced, and have talked with him today regarding the media's questions. He has our News Desk phone number and cell, and knows who to push reporters to as he is contacted. Feel we're in a good spot with him.

“The United States and the United Kingdom view their special relationship not as a slogan, but as a joint responsibility and a privilege born of deeply felt principles, shared history, shared struggle, and mutual respect. There are no two closer partners when we face threats to security, nor two more kindred spirits in building a stable and more secure world.”

THE VICE PRESIDENT

“The United States and the United Kingdom are partners, working to advance our shared values on every front, from rebuilding the world economy, to combating climate change and fighting hunger, to facing down the threats of nuclear proliferation and violent extremism, to helping advance a comprehensive peace in the Middle East. We stand shoulder to shoulder in the effort to build a global architecture of cooperation, and to develop the partnerships that are needed to meet these global challenges.”

THE SECRETARY OF STATE

LUNCHEON

in honor of

THE RIGHT HONORABLE

DAVID CAMERON, M.P.

PRIME MINISTER OF THE UNITED KINGDOM
OF GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND
AND MRS. SAMANTHA CAMERON

hosted by

THE VICE PRESIDENT AND DR. BIDEN

AND

The Benjamin Franklin Room
Department of State

March 14, 2012

In an on-going collaboration with the James Beard Foundation, we are pleased to partner with world-renowned chefs who understand the importance of food in diplomacy and cultural exchanges. For today's luncheon, Chef April Bloomfield has created a special menu uniting American ingredients and techniques with traditional British flavors.

Chef Bloomfield, a native of Birmingham, England, honed her craft in various kitchens throughout London and Northern Ireland. April and restaurateur Ken Friedman debuted New York City's first gastropub, The Spotted Pig, in 2004. Following its success, the pair opened The Breslin Bar & Dining Room and The John Dory Oyster Bar at New York City's Ace Hotel. A Food & Wine "Best New Chef," April continues to receive widespread acclaim for her innovative cuisine.
