Hunter,

Just dropping a quick note to you about Kate's award in Philadelphia where she will also announce the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund (we have raised over $100,000 already!).

I know its nearly impossible to secure time on the Vice-President's schedule with all he has to attend to in the world and here at home, so perhaps, as an alternative, he might supply a video message or note to be read at the event?

I have attached a draft of the press release to provide some background on both the award she will receive on April 24 and the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund that will be announced that evening.

Please let me know what you think and thanks for all of your good help.

Warmly,
Anya

Women's Law Project Announces Establishment of Kate Michelman Legacy Fund

Legacy Fund Honors Legendary Women's Rights Activist Kate Michelman, Focuses on Protecting Women's Reproductive Rights

April 25, 2014, Philadelphia, PA – The Women's Law Project yesterday announced the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, dedicated to advancing the ongoing work of protecting the reproductive freedom of women in Pennsylvania and beyond.

Kate also received the 2014 Myra Bradwell Award, which recognizes individuals whose work symbolizes the spirit and determination demonstrated by Myra Bradwell as she worked tirelessly on behalf of women's equality. The Honorable Edward G. Rendell presented the award to Kate.

"We couldn't have found a recipient for the Myra Bradwell Award who better exemplifies the dedication and passion that Kate has brought to the fight for women's equality these past 45 years," said Carol Tracy, Executive Director of the Women's Law Project. "Her personal tragedy, rather than defeating her, instead propelled her to the front lines, where she served as President of NARAL Pro-Choice America for nearly two decades. Under her fearless leadership, NARAL Pro-Choice transformed the political debate and positioned a woman's right to choose as a fundamental American liberty."

At the Myra Bradwell Award & Reception last night at Duane Morris in Philadelphia, the lead donors for the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund were announced, including Mardi Kildebeck of the Mary Wohlford Foundation and Dagmar Dolby of the Ray and Dagmar Dolby Family Fund, both of whom committed $25,000. According to Dagmar Dolby, "There's no one better than Kate to know the history, but also to inspire the passion to fight for women's reproductive rights. She inspired me twenty years ago and continues to do so today."

It was announced at the awards reception that $100,000 (we will need to update this) in founding donations have been made to The Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, which seeks to raise a total of $500,000. These funds will be leveraged to advance and defend reproductive freedom and ensure the next generation of legal advocates are prepared to take on the challenges ahead in the field of reproductive rights. (DISCUSS WHETHER TO LIST ANY OTHER NOTABLE DONOR NAMES)

Kate Michelman, the deserving honoree at last night's event, stated, "I am so humbled to be a part of the ongoing work of the Women's Law Project through the Kate Michelman Legacy

Fund.” She continued, “In 1969, I had a personal, economic and health crisis that I decided to resolve by seeking an abortion. Under the extremely restrictive laws of Pennsylvania, I was utterly alone. Today, I need your help to make sure that women in Pennsylvania - who now face threats to their reproductive rights and health - are never alone. That’s why the Legacy Fund, and the work we will be able to do as a result of our generous donors, is of such critical importance.”

For more details on the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, please visit www.womenslawproject.org
(NEED TO GET A WEB PAGE READY FOR THIS)

The Women’s Law Project and WomenVote PA:

The Women’s Law Project is a non-profit law firm focused on high-impact research, litigation and advocacy both state-wide and nationally. The Women’s Law Project represented the plaintiff abortion providers in the landmark U.S. Supreme Court case Planned Parenthood v. Casey, the 1992 case widely credited with saving the constitutional right to abortion, and has provided legal counsel to Pennsylvania reproductive health care providers for several decades. For more information go to www.womenslawproject.org.

WomenVote PA is the non-partisan action arm of the Women’s Law Project that connects a woman's aspiration for reproductive rights and health, economic security, and freedom from violence with her capacity for civic engagement such as the exercise of her vote, particularly in non-presidential Pennsylvania elections. For more information go to www.womensvotepa.org.

Kate Michelman is a renowned women’s right leader and co-chair of WomenVote PA. She is also president emerita of NARAL Pro-Choice America and author of “With Liberty and Justice for All: A Life Spent Protecting the Right to Choose.”

Vice President Joseph Biden will deliver the keynote address at the Creativity Conference on May 2, an event sponsored by the MPAA, ABC News and Microsoft.

The event, held the day before the White House Correspondents Dinner, began last year. The purpose is to highlight how entertainment and technology companies are bridging the gap in offering new products and content.

This year's event, to be held at the Newseum, also will feature House Judiciary Chairman Bob Goodlatte (R-Va.), who is in the midst of holding hearings on a major revise of the Copyright Act.

Former President Bill Clinton was the keynote speaker at last year's conference.

Subject: Re: Call from Embassy Beijing re: Hunter Biden's Travel in China

Dear Jesse,

Thank you so much for your time and information this morning. I spoke with Mr. Biden and he said that he was hoping to stop by if it happened to work for Ambassador Baucus know he was giving short notice. Since the Ambassador won't be in Beijing while Hunter is, Hunter said that frequently he travels to China and that he would try again the next time and hopefully be able to give more time to plan.

Thank you to everyone for being so responsive and we hope to be able to arrange something in the future.

Have a good week.

Best,
Katie

FOIA-6

Hunter,

Just dropping a quick note to you about Kate's award in Philadelphia where she will also announce the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund (we have raised over $100,000 already!).

I know its nearly impossible to secure time on the Vice-President's schedule with all he has to attend to in the world and here at home, so perhaps, as an alternative, he might supply a video message or note to be read at the event?

I have attached a draft of the press release to provide some background on both the award she will receive on April 24 and the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund that will be announced that evening.

Please let me know what you think and thanks for all of your good help.

Warmly,
Anya

Hey Kathleen--
Hope you guys are doing well. Do you happen to remember the name of the contact in Dr. Biden's office to ask about possibly having her speak at our Newswomen's Breast Cancer event this year. You put me in touch with a guy last year who suggested I try again to get her for the 2014 event.. but I can't find his email or name. Any chance you can help again??

Thanks in advance! Hope you're having a great weekend. :)

Hi Anthony,

Thanks again for coordinating everything this afternoon. I can't tell how thrilled we are for tomorrow morning! I think it should be great.

I've attached a Live Below the Line one-pager for campaign background. Below are three tweets to pick from for Dr. Biden and Vice President Biden. Feel free to pass these along to whoever needs to approve them. I also included copy for Instagram in case the VP would like to post the photo to his account.

Let me know if you have any questions. Thanks again!

Subject: Messaging for Live Below the Line for tomorrow am

Hi Anthony,

Thanks again for coordinating everything this afternoon. I can't tell how thrilled we are for tomorrow morning! I think it should be great.

I've attached a Live Below the Line one-pager for campaign background. Below are three tweets to pick from for Dr. Biden and Vice President Biden. Feel free to pass these along to whoever needs to approve them. I also included copy for Instagram in case the VP would like to post the photo to his account.

Let me know if you have any questions. Thanks again!

Lauren

Dr. Biden Tweet Copy

- 1) Today, @VP & I joined @HunterBiden to raise awareness re: global hunger. Will you join us? <http://bit.ly/1mAp9yo>
- 2) My son @HunterBiden is living on less than $1.50/day to help feed hungry kids worldwide. Join him: <http://bit.ly/1mAp9yo>
- 3) I'm sharing a meal with @HunterBiden to help #SolveHunger. Join him in living #BelowTheLine: <http://bit.ly/1mAp9yo>

LIVE BELOW THE LINE

2014 Participant Resource Pack

This guide will get you started as you challenge yourself to Live Below the Line.

LIVE BELOW

THE LINE

1. Welcome to Live Below the Line

Thanks for joining us to LIVE BELOW THE LINE from April 28TH – May 2ND.

Live Below the Line is an awareness and fundraising campaign run by the Global Poverty Project.

To Live Below the Line is to challenge yourself to eat and drink on just $1.50 a day. The campaign helps participants better understand the lack of choice and opportunity faced by people living in extreme poverty. 1.2 billion people around the world live in extreme poverty, meaning that they live on the equivalent of what you can buy in the United States for $1.50 a day everyday.

You are coming together with thousands of others to help raise awareness of one of the biggest issues in the world today: extreme poverty.

In the past 3 years, over 50,000 people around the world lived below the line, which helped us to raise $10 million for the world's poor.

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

1. Go to www.livebelowtheline.com
2. Pick a charity partner for which you want to fundraise.
3. Create your personal fundraising page.
4. Start a team and get your friends, family and co-workers involved.
5. Live Below the Line will send you tips throughout the campaign journey.

3. How Does the Challenge Work?

You have a total of $7.50 to use to buy all ingredients for all of your meals for 5 days.

- You can't grab a snack from the pantry unless you count the cost of the item within your budget.
- For items such as salt and pepper simply work out the cost of each item per ounce and budget your shopping proportionally.
- You can use food from your garden as long as you account for the price of production.
- You cannot accept 'donated' food from others.
- You can count tap water as being free.

4. Cooking for Live Below the Line

Cooking for Live Below the Line can at first seem extremely challenging. What should I buy on this limited budget?

Here are a few suggestions of inexpensive and staple ingredients that you may want to include on your shopping list: Rice, Beans, Chickpeas, Corn, Tomato

Sauce, Noodles, Eggs, Carrots, Onions, Canola Oil, Garlic, Salt, Pepper, Bananas, Pasta, Oatmeal, etc.

FROM APRIL 28TH - MAY 2ND
$1.50 A DAY ON FOOD

5. Fundraising Success

Live Below the Line gives participants a powerful opportunity to share these experiences and raise vital funds for their favorite charities.

6. Fundraising Tips

- Start early. The longer you spend fundraising, the more money you'll raise
- Set a positive example and donate to yourself
- Start by sending an email to everyone you know asking for a donation, just by reaching out you are spreading positive messaging
- Update your email signature by adding a link to your personal fundraising page and a short note saying that you will be living below the line this spring
- Use social media to invite friends to become involved
- Get your workplace engaged. Ask your boss if your company will match your donations
- Tell potential donors why you are passionate about ending extreme poverty and the charity you are supporting. Keep it personal and inspiring
- Thank donors for their generosity on social media in a public way
- Start a team and fundraise together
- Keep fundraising even after the challenge week is over
- Have fun and enjoy the challenge!

SHARE THE STORY OF YOUR EXPERIENCE
AND RAISE FUNDS TO SUPPORT YOUR FAVORITE CHARITY

7. Fundraising Message

Below is a basic campaign message you can use to engage your friends and family.

Don't be afraid to reach out to as many people as possible with a short, informative, and friendly email - even if they don't sponsor you, they can become more engaged in the fight to end extreme poverty just by knowing about your personal commitment!

Dear [Friend/Family/Business owner],

This Spring, I will be taking part in a global poverty awareness campaign called Live Below The Line to raise money for [Fundraising cause], and I would like to ask for [your / Business Name]'s support.

The Live Below the Line campaign invites individuals, groups and communities across the United States, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the United Kingdom to eat on just $1.50 a day, the U.S. equivalent of the extreme poverty line. 1.2 billion people around the world currently live below this line lacking the basic choices and opportunities that most of us take for granted.

From April 28th - May 2nd, I will eat on just $1.50 a day to raise awareness of the challenges faced by these 1.2 billion people, and to support the work of [Organization you are sponsoring]. I would love your support!

[Information about the Project you are fundraising for]

I would really appreciate your support.
Please contact me if you would be willing to be involved.

8. Fundraising Ideas

FUNDRAISING AT WORK

Pay What You Think

Prepare a meal for your office that fits within the Live Below the Line budget of 50 cents per meal. Ask your colleagues to donate what they would have spent on lunch.

Involve our workplace

Ask your workplace to match all donations that you collect. Register your work place to participate in Corporate Challenge Day by emailing LBLUS@globalpovertyproject.com.

Dress Down Day

Ask your boss if, for a donation to your Live Below the Line campaign, you and your colleagues can dress casually for one day.

Hold an Office Cook-Off

Organize an office cook-off so that everyone at work can get behind Live Below the Line. Compete in teams to produce the best possible food within the $1.50 per person budget.

FUNDRAISING WITH FRIENDS

Sell Live Below the Line meals

Organize a day at your office/church/school/university where you offer meals that fit within the Live Below the Line budget. Ask for a donation in return.

Host a Live Below the Line presentation

Get 100 colleagues, faith group members, or friends in a social group together and host the Live Below the Line presentation to learn more about issues of extreme poverty and find out how you can help end extreme poverty within a generation.

Contact us for details:

LBLUS@globalpovertyproject.com

Host a Live Below the Line dinner party

Create a meal that costs 50 cents per guest. This is a great way to get your friends involved and ask for donations.

9. Social Media

Posting on social media outlets like Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, and blogs is the most effective way to raise awareness and funds for Live Below the Line. Here are some suggestions below to get you started.

FACEBOOK #BELOWTHELINE

- Change your profile picture or header banner to the Live Below the Line logo
- 'Like' the Live Below the Line USA Facebook page
- Thank each donor on Facebook with a personal shout out on your Facebook
- Use Facebook statuses to tell your friends about your campaign. How are you feeling? What are you eating? What have you learned? Remember to keep your posts short and snappy and to use positive statements like "WOW" that draw the eye of the reader
- Post photos to show your friends what you are eating each day for under $1.50. Encourage them to join a fundraising team with you

YOUTUBE

- Video blogs are a great way to make your experience living below the line more visual and engaging. A simple webcam will suffice for "talk to camera" sessions and most mobile phones now have a video camera facility on them
- Recording your shopping trip, your thoughts about extreme poverty, and other people's reaction to your campaign will make for great blogs of your experience. Live Below the Line has a YouTube channel that can be found at www.youtube.com/user/LiveBelowtheLineUS.

Malin Akerman's interview was on MSNBC and also featured on CNN, MTV and in the Washington Post, Huffington Post, New York Post, and other media outlets.

TWITTER #BELOWTHELINE @LBLUS

Here are a few tips and sample tweets to get started:

- Let your followers know that you will Live Below the Line this year
- Use the hashtag #belowtheline to make your Tweets searchable
- Follow @LBLUS to get updates directly from the Live Below the Line team
- Follow other supporters who are taking the challenge
- Search the #belowtheline hashtag to find people to support
- Tweet and include @LBLUS to share the campaign with your friends
- Ask your Twitter followers to donate to your campaign

INSTAGRAM

Upload your challenge photos to Instagram and use the hashtag #belowtheline.

A SIMPLE WAY TO RAISE AWARENESS FOR LIVE BELOW THE LINE, IS BY 'RETWEETING' CELEBRITIES AND NGO SUPPORTERS WITH LOTS OF FOLLOWERS.

10. Local Media

Spread the word about Live Below the Line in your community by getting your local media outlets involved.

Approach your local newspapers, magazines, television stations, and radio stations about Live Below the Line. Call your local stations, tell them who you are and that you live in the area, and then offer to come in for an interview. The contact details for local media outlets should be available online in the 'contact us' portion of their websites. Ask the news outlet to whom they would prefer you send a press release. Be ready to explain the challenge to the reporter.

Here are sample press releases and examples of outreach that may be useful: Many gyms, churches, and social organizations have a group newsletter that is distributed to all members. Editors are always looking for stories and your participation in Live Below the Line is a great story! A submission to an editor needs to be short and concise with the relevant details.

MEDIA PRESS TEMPLATE

Title: Local Puts Convictions on the Line
Location], State, [date]

[FULL NAME] is not content with simply signing a petition when it comes to global poverty. In fact, the [CITY] resident has committed to Live Below the Line and spend just $1.50 each day for a week on food.

From April 28th - May 2nd, [NAME] will be joined by thousands of other people across the country and internationally who are taking the challenge. As a part of the Live Below the Line campaign, every single one of them will be spending just $1.50 each day on food and drink – the U.S. equivalent of the international extreme poverty line.

[NAME] will have no shortage of company – in addition to the thousands taking part in the challenge, 1.2 billion people struggle to meet their daily needs on less than $1.50 a day.

"The scary thing for me was when I found out that living in extreme poverty meant having less than $1.50 to spend in the U.S. Sometimes we think to ourselves 'but $1.50 would go so much further overseas' – but that's not the case" says [NAME] "I couldn't even imagine having to cover all my food, lodging, healthcare and education for $1.50 or less."

[NAME] will Live Below the Line for 5 days to raise money for [NAME OF CHARITY] to help fund the work they do to combat extreme poverty. Previously a student at [SCHOOL], [NAME] thinks education is the most important thing we can do to end extreme poverty, and is looking forward to the challenge of feeding her/ himself with only $1.50 a day. "It's less than half the cost of a bus ticket, so it's going to be hard. But 1.2 billion people do this every day, and have to pay for much more than just food – so I'm sure I'll find a way".

To take part in this unique challenge, sign up on the Live Below the Line website – www.livebelowtheline.org/us. You can sponsor [NAME] at [FUNDRAISING PAGE ADDRESS].

GRASSROOTS MEDIA OUTREACH

Live Below the Line this May

From April 28th-May 2nd, the [NAME] team is getting behind the poverty awareness campaign Live Below the Line to raise funds for [NGO]. Live Below the Line is an awareness and fundraising campaign designed to help people understand the challenges faced by those currently living in extreme poverty.

Live Below the Line challenges people to do just that, and feed themselves with just $1.50 a day – the U.S. equivalent of the international Extreme Poverty Line.

The [NAME] team will be raising funds for a lifechanging education program. You can find out more and sign up at

11. Have fun!!

Live Below the Line is a life-changing experience. This challenge is a great way for your community to become a part of the movement to end extreme poverty.

By signing up for Live Below the Line you are raising awareness and crucial funds for initiatives fighting extreme poverty around the world.

This year we want the Live Below the Line campaign to be bigger and better than ever! The more awareness and more funds we raise together the closer we are to ending extreme poverty.

THANK YOU FOR PARTICIPATING!

Hunter,

Just dropping a quick note to you about Kate's award in Philadelphia where she will also announce the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund (we have raised over $100,000 already!).

I know its nearly impossible to secure time on the Vice-President's schedule with all he has to attend to in the world and here at home, so perhaps, as an alternative, he might supply a video message or note to be read at the event?

I have attached a draft of the press release to provide some background on both the award she will receive on April 24 and the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund that will be announced that evening.

Please let me know what you think and thanks for all of your good help.

Warmly,

Women's Law Project Announces Establishment of Kate Michelman Legacy Fund

Legacy Fund Honors Legendary Women's Rights Activist Kate Michelman, Focuses on Protecting Women's Reproductive Rights

April 25, 2014, Philadelphia, PA – The Women's Law Project yesterday announced the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, dedicated to advancing the ongoing work of protecting the reproductive freedom of women in Pennsylvania and beyond.

Kate also received the 2014 Myra Bradwell Award, which recognizes individuals whose work symbolizes the spirit and determination demonstrated by Myra Bradwell as she worked tirelessly on behalf of women's equality. The Honorable Edward G. Rendell presented the award to Kate.

"We couldn't have found a recipient for the Myra Bradwell Award who better exemplifies the dedication and passion that Kate has brought to the fight for women's equality these past 45 years," said Carol Tracy, Executive Director of the Women's Law Project. "Her personal tragedy, rather than defeating her, instead propelled her to the front lines, where she served as President of NARAL Pro-Choice America for nearly two decades. Under her fearless leadership, NARAL Pro-Choice transformed the political debate and positioned a woman's right to choose as a fundamental American liberty."

At the Myra Bradwell Award & Reception last night at Duane Morris in Philadelphia, the lead donors for the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund were announced, including Mardi Kildebeck of the Mary Wohlford Foundation and Dagmar Dolby of the Ray and Dagmar Dolby Family Fund, both of whom committed $25,000. According to Dagmar Dolby, "There's no one better than Kate to know the history, but also to inspire the passion to fight for women's reproductive rights. She inspired me twenty years ago and continues to do so today."

It was announced at the awards reception that $100,000 (we will need to update this) in founding donations have been made to The Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, which seeks to raise a total of $500,000. These funds will be leveraged to advance and defend reproductive freedom and ensure the next generation of legal advocates are prepared to take on the challenges ahead in the field of reproductive rights. (DISCUSS WHETHER TO LIST ANY OTHER NOTABLE DONOR NAMES)

Kate Michelman, the deserving honoree at last night's event, stated, "I am so humbled to be a part of the ongoing work of the Women's Law Project through the Kate Michelman Legacy

Fund.” She continued, “In 1969, I had a personal, economic and health crisis that I decided to resolve by seeking an abortion. Under the extremely restrictive laws of Pennsylvania, I was utterly alone. Today, I need your help to make sure that women in Pennsylvania - who now face threats to their reproductive rights and health - are never alone. That’s why the Legacy Fund, and the work we will be able to do as a result of our generous donors, is of such critical importance.”

The Women’s Law Project and WomenVote PA:

The Women’s Law Project is a non-profit law firm focused on high-impact research, litigation and advocacy both state-wide and nationally. The Women’s Law Project represented the plaintiff abortion providers in the landmark U.S. Supreme Court case Planned Parenthood v. Casey, the 1992 case widely credited with saving the constitutional right to abortion, and has provided legal counsel to Pennsylvania reproductive health care providers for several decades. For more information go to www.womenslawproject.org.

WomenVote PA is the non-partisan action arm of the Women’s Law Project that connects a woman's aspiration for reproductive rights and health, economic security, and freedom from violence with her capacity for civic engagement such as the exercise of her vote, particularly in non-presidential Pennsylvania elections. For more information go to www.womensvotepa.org.

Kate Michelman is a renowned women’s right leader and co-chair of WomenVote PA. She is also president emerita of NARAL Pro-Choice America and author of “With Liberty and Justice for All: A Life Spent Protecting the Right to Choose.”

Vice President Joseph Biden will deliver the keynote address at the Creativity Conference on May 2, an event sponsored by the MPAA, ABC News and Microsoft.

The event, held the day before the White House Correspondents Dinner, began last year. The purpose is to highlight how entertainment and technology companies are bridging the gap in offering new products and content.

This year's event, to be held at the Newseum, also will feature House Judiciary Chairman Bob Goodlatte (R-Va.), who is in the midst of holding hearings on a major revise of the Copyright Act.

Former President Bill Clinton was the keynote speaker at last year's conference.

Political party Institutional Revolutionary Party

Spouse(s) Christiane Magnani

Profession

Lawyer

Miguel Alemán Velasco (born March 18, 1932, in Veracruz) is a Mexican politician, businessman and philanthropist. He is a former senator and governor of Veracruz.

Alemán Velasco is the son of former Mexican president Miguel Alemán Valdés and Beatriz Velasco Mendoza and holds a Bachelor's degree in Law from the National Autonomous University of Mexico. He is married to former Miss Universe and actress Christiane Magnani and has three daughters and a son: Claudia, Mónica, Carla and Miguel Alemán Magnani. When Alemán Velasco sold his stakes at Televisa, his son acquired them and is now the owner of Interjet, a low-fares airline.

In 1952, Alemán backed as his successor the minister of the interior Adolfo Ruiz Cortines, who pledged a more balanced national development. But Alemán remained a political force, the focal point for more conservative elements in the party and for the new middle-class banking, industrial, and commercial interests which had risen to power in Mexico. As president of the National Tourism Council, he played a major role in the development of the resort town of acapulco and the promotion of the 1968 Olympics.

On August 9, 2004 Alemán was honored by the Government of Panama with the Great Cross of Vasco Núñez de Balboa.

He sought his party's nomination for the 2006 presidential election during the first months of 2005.

Further Reading

There have been campaign biographies and some journalistic publications on Alemán but no scholarly study. The best work is George S. Wise, El México de Alemán (1952). Useful material is contained in Oscar Lewis's chapter "Mexico since Cárdenas" in Richard N. Adams and others, Social Change in Latin America Today (1960); in Howard F. Cline, Mexico: Revolution to Evolution, 1940-1960 (1962); and in Frank Brandenburg, The Making of Modern Mexico (1964). General discussions of the Alemán administration may be found in Harry Bernstein, Modern and Contemporary Latin America (1952); in Hubert Herring, A History of Latin America (1955; 3d ed. 1968); and in Helen Miller Bailey and Abraham P. AND SON:

Miguel Aleman Magnani

Profile

Mr. Alemán was born on April 25, 1966 in Mexico City. He has a degree in Law from the Universidad Anáhuac and a course in Business Management from the Instituto Panamericano de Alta Dirección de Empresas ("IPADE"). He has held important positions within Televisa, Mexico's largest Spanish speaking media communications company. He is currently the CEO of the Mexican airline Interjet, as well as Chairman of GALEM, a German Group specializing in telecommunications, real estate and transportation. He is a member of the board of several Mexican companies. He is also a partner of the Discovery Americas fund.

Hunter,

Just dropping a quick note to you about Kate's award in Philadelphia where she will also announce the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund (we have raised over $100,000 already!).

I know its nearly impossible to secure time on the Vice-President's schedule with all he has to attend to in the world and here at home, so perhaps, as an alternative, he might supply a video message or note to be read at the event?

I have attached a draft of the press release to provide some background on both the award she will receive on April 24 and the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund that will be announced that evening.

Please let me know what you think and thanks for all of your good help.

Warmly,

Women's Law Project Announces Establishment of Kate Michelman Legacy Fund

Legacy Fund Honors Legendary Women's Rights Activist Kate Michelman, Focuses on Protecting Women's Reproductive Rights

April 25, 2014, Philadelphia, PA – The Women's Law Project yesterday announced the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, dedicated to advancing the ongoing work of protecting the reproductive freedom of women in Pennsylvania and beyond.

Kate also received the 2014 Myra Bradwell Award, which recognizes individuals whose work symbolizes the spirit and determination demonstrated by Myra Bradwell as she worked tirelessly on behalf of women's equality. The Honorable Edward G. Rendell presented the award to Kate.

"We couldn't have found a recipient for the Myra Bradwell Award who better exemplifies the dedication and passion that Kate has brought to the fight for women's equality these past 45 years," said Carol Tracy, Executive Director of the Women's Law Project. "Her personal tragedy, rather than defeating her, instead propelled her to the front lines, where she served as President of NARAL Pro-Choice America for nearly two decades. Under her fearless leadership, NARAL Pro-Choice transformed the political debate and positioned a woman's right to choose as a fundamental American liberty."

At the Myra Bradwell Award & Reception last night at Duane Morris in Philadelphia, the lead donors for the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund were announced, including Mardi Kildebeck of the Mary Wohlford Foundation and Dagmar Dolby of the Ray and Dagmar Dolby Family Fund, both of whom committed $25,000. According to Dagmar Dolby, "There's no one better than Kate to know the history, but also to inspire the passion to fight for women's reproductive rights. She inspired me twenty years ago and continues to do so today."

It was announced at the awards reception that $100,000 (we will need to update this) in founding donations have been made to The Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, which seeks to raise a total of $500,000. These funds will be leveraged to advance and defend reproductive freedom and ensure the next generation of legal advocates are prepared to take on the challenges ahead in the field of reproductive rights. (DISCUSS WHETHER TO LIST ANY OTHER NOTABLE DONOR NAMES)

Kate Michelman, the deserving honoree at last night's event, stated, "I am so humbled to be a part of the ongoing work of the Women's Law Project through the Kate Michelman Legacy

Fund.” She continued, “In 1969, I had a personal, economic and health crisis that I decided to resolve by seeking an abortion. Under the extremely restrictive laws of Pennsylvania, I was utterly alone. Today, I need your help to make sure that women in Pennsylvania - who now face threats to their reproductive rights and health - are never alone. That’s why the Legacy Fund, and the work we will be able to do as a result of our generous donors, is of such critical importance.”

The Women’s Law Project and WomenVote PA:

The Women’s Law Project is a non-profit law firm focused on high-impact research, litigation and advocacy both state-wide and nationally. The Women’s Law Project represented the plaintiff abortion providers in the landmark U.S. Supreme Court case Planned Parenthood v. Casey, the 1992 case widely credited with saving the constitutional right to abortion, and has provided legal counsel to Pennsylvania reproductive health care providers for several decades. For more information go to www.womenslawproject.org.

WomenVote PA is the non-partisan action arm of the Women’s Law Project that connects a woman's aspiration for reproductive rights and health, economic security, and freedom from violence with her capacity for civic engagement such as the exercise of her vote, particularly in non-presidential Pennsylvania elections. For more information go to www.womensvotepa.org.

Kate Michelman is a renowned women’s right leader and co-chair of WomenVote PA. She is also president emerita of NARAL Pro-Choice America and author of “With Liberty and Justice for All: A Life Spent Protecting the Right to Choose.”

Hunter,

FOIA-6

Just dropping a quick note to you about Kate's award in Philadelphia where she will also announce the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund (we have raised over $100,000 already!).

I know its nearly impossible to secure time on the Vice-President's schedule with all he has to attend to in the world and here at home, so perhaps, as an alternative, he might supply a video message or note to be read at the event?

I have attached a draft of the press release to provide some background on both the award she will receive on April 24 and the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund that will be announced that evening.

Please let me know what you think and thanks for all of your good help.

Warmly,
Anya

Hi Anthony,

Thanks again for coordinating everything this afternoon. I can't tell how thrilled we are for tomorrow morning! I think it should be great.

I've attached a Live Below the Line one-pager for campaign background. Below are three tweets to pick from for Dr. Biden and Vice President Biden. Feel free to pass these along to whoever needs to approve them. I also included copy for Instagram in case the VP would like to post the photo to his account.

Let me know if you have any questions. Thanks again!

Lauren

Women's Law Project Announces Establishment of Kate Michelman Legacy Fund

Legacy Fund Honors Legendary Women's Rights Activist Kate Michelman, Focuses on Protecting Women's Reproductive Rights

April 25, 2014, Philadelphia, PA – The Women's Law Project yesterday announced the establishment of the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, dedicated to advancing the ongoing work of protecting the reproductive freedom of women in Pennsylvania and beyond.

Kate also received the 2014 Myra Bradwell Award, which recognizes individuals whose work symbolizes the spirit and determination demonstrated by Myra Bradwell as she worked tirelessly on behalf of women's equality. The Honorable Edward G. Rendell presented the award to Kate.

"We couldn't have found a recipient for the Myra Bradwell Award who better exemplifies the dedication and passion that Kate has brought to the fight for women's equality these past 45 years," said Carol Tracy, Executive Director of the Women's Law Project. "Her personal tragedy, rather than defeating her, instead propelled her to the front lines, where she served as President of NARAL Pro-Choice America for nearly two decades. Under her fearless leadership, NARAL Pro-Choice transformed the political debate and positioned a woman's right to choose as a fundamental American liberty."

At the Myra Bradwell Award & Reception last night at Duane Morris in Philadelphia, the lead donors for the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund were announced, including Mardi Kildebeck of the Mary Wohlford Foundation and Dagmar Dolby of the Ray and Dagmar Dolby Family Fund, both of whom committed $25,000. According to Dagmar Dolby, "There's no one better than Kate to know the history, but also to inspire the passion to fight for women's reproductive rights. She inspired me twenty years ago and continues to do so today."

It was announced at the awards reception that $100,000 (we will need to update this) in founding donations have been made to The Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, which seeks to raise a total of $500,000. These funds will be leveraged to advance and defend reproductive freedom and ensure the next generation of legal advocates are prepared to take on the challenges ahead in the field of reproductive rights. (DISCUSS WHETHER TO LIST ANY OTHER NOTABLE DONOR NAMES)

Kate Michelman, the deserving honoree at last night's event, stated, "I am so humbled to be a part of the ongoing work of the Women's Law Project through the Kate Michelman Legacy

Fund.” She continued, “In 1969, I had a personal, economic and health crisis that I decided to resolve by seeking an abortion. Under the extremely restrictive laws of Pennsylvania, I was utterly alone. Today, I need your help to make sure that women in Pennsylvania - who now face threats to their reproductive rights and health - are never alone. That’s why the Legacy Fund, and the work we will be able to do as a result of our generous donors, is of such critical importance.”

For more details on the Kate Michelman Legacy Fund, please visit www.womenslawproject.org
(NEED TO GET A WEB PAGE READY FOR THIS)

The Women’s Law Project and WomenVote PA:

The Women’s Law Project is a non-profit law firm focused on high-impact research, litigation and advocacy both state-wide and nationally. The Women’s Law Project represented the plaintiff abortion providers in the landmark U.S. Supreme Court case Planned Parenthood v. Casey, the 1992 case widely credited with saving the constitutional right to abortion, and has provided legal counsel to Pennsylvania reproductive health care providers for several decades. For more information go to www.womenslawproject.org.

WomenVote PA is the non-partisan action arm of the Women’s Law Project that connects a woman's aspiration for reproductive rights and health, economic security, and freedom from violence with her capacity for civic engagement such as the exercise of her vote, particularly in non-presidential Pennsylvania elections. For more information go to www.womensvotepa.org.

Kate Michelman is a renowned women’s right leader and co-chair of WomenVote PA. She is also president emerita of NARAL Pro-Choice America and author of “With Liberty and Justice for All: A Life Spent Protecting the Right to Choose.”

Sara,

Absolutely! Send them my way. I am working on getting my official badge and authorization to escort tours but that should be completed over the next few weeks.

Thanks and safe travels next week!

I hope everyone had a great holiday weekend and easing into the workweek. We have a new member to the OVP family. I am very excited to have Anne Marie Person working here with me in the West Wing!! I think all of you know her from her work with Rosemont Seneca. Today is her first day. Her number is 202-456-1732, and her email is Person_A@ovp.eop.gov. I think she is definitely the smarter of the two Persons in my immediate proximity. Have a great week!

Miguel Alemán Velasco

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Miguel Alemán Velasco (born March 18, 1932, in Veracruz) is a Mexican politician, businessman and philanthropist. He is a former senator and governor of Veracruz.

Alemán Velasco is the son of former Mexican president Miguel Alemán Valdés and Beatriz Velasco Mendoza and holds a Bachelor's degree in Law from the National Autonomous University of Mexico. He is married to former Miss Universe and actress Christiane Magnani and has three daughters and a son: Claudia, Mónica, Carla and Miguel Alemán Magnani. When Alemán Velasco sold his stakes at Televisa, his son acquired them and is now the owner of Interjet, a low-fares airline.

In 1952, Alemán backed as his successor the minister of the interior Adolfo Ruiz Cortines, who pledged a more balanced national development. But Alemán remained a political force, the focal point for more conservative elements in the party and for the new middle-class banking, industrial, and commercial interests which had risen to power in Mexico. As president of the National Tourism Council, he played a major role in the development of the resort town of acapulco and the promotion of the 1968 Olympics.

On August 9, 2004 Alemán was honored by the Government of Panama with the Great Cross of Vasco Nuñez de Balboa.

He sought his party's nomination for the 2006 presidential election during the first months of 2005.

Further Reading

There have been campaign biographies and some journalistic publications on Alemán but no scholarly study. The best work is George S. Wise, El México de Alemán (1952). Useful material is contained in Oscar Lewis's chapter "Mexico since Cárdenas" in Richard N. Adams and others, Social Change in Latin America Today (1960); in Howard F. Cline, Mexico: Revolution to Evolution, 1940-1960 (1962); and in Frank Brandenburg, The Making of Modern Mexico (1964). General discussions of the Alemán administration may be found in Harry Bernstein, Modern and Contemporary Latin America (1952); in Hubert Herring, A History of Latin America (1955; 3d ed. 1968); and in Helen Miller Bailey and Abraham P. Nasatir, Latin America: The Development of Its Civilization (1960; 2d ed. 1968).

AND SON:
Miguel Aleman Magnani

Profile

Mr. Alemán was born on April 25, 1966 in Mexico City. He has a degree in Law from the Universidad Anáhuac and a course in Business Management from the Instituto Panamericano de Alta Dirección de Empresas ("IPADE"). He has held important positions within Televisa, Mexico's largest Spanish speaking media communications company. He is currently the CEO of the Mexican airline Interjet, as well as Chairman of GALEM, a German Group specializing in telecommunications, real estate and transportation. He is a member of the board of several Mexican companies. He is also a partner of the Discovery Americas fund.

Messaging for Live Below the Line for tomorrow am

Attachments: LBL User guide- Flnal.pdf (1.6 MB)

Hi Anthony,

Thanks again for coordinating everything this afternoon. I can't tell how thrilled we are for tomorrow morning! I think it should be great.

I've attached a Live Below the Line one-pager for campaign background. Below are three tweets to pick from for Dr. Biden and Vice President Biden. Feel free to pass these along to whoever needs to approve them. I also included copy for Instagram in case the VP would like to post the photo to his account.

Let me know if you have any questions. Thanks again!

Lauren

LIVE BELOW THE LINE

2014 Participant Resource Pack

This guide will get you started as you challenge yourself to Live Below the Line.

LIVE BELOW

THE LINE

1. Welcome to Live Below the Line

Thanks for joining us to LIVE BELOW THE LINE from April 28TH – May 2ND.

Live Below the Line is an awareness and fundraising campaign run by the Global Poverty Project.

To Live Below the Line is to challenge yourself to eat and drink on just $1.50 a day. The campaign helps participants better understand the lack of choice and opportunity faced by people living in extreme poverty. 1.2 billion people around the world live in extreme poverty, meaning that they live on the equivalent of what you can buy in the United States for $1.50 a day everyday.

You are coming together with thousands of others to help raise awareness of one of the biggest issues in the world today: extreme poverty.

In the past 3 years, over 50,000 people around the world lived below the line, which helped us to raise $10 million for the world's poor.

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

1. Go to www.livebelowtheline.com
2. Pick a charity partner for which you want to fundraise.
3. Create your personal fundraising page.
4. Start a team and get your friends, family and co-workers involved.
5. Live Below the Line will send you tips throughout the campaign journey.

3. How Does the Challenge Work?

You have a total of $7.50 to use to buy all ingredients for all of your meals for 5 days.

- You can't grab a snack from the pantry unless you count the cost of the item within your budget.
- For items such as salt and pepper simply work out the cost of each item per ounce and budget your shopping proportionally.
- You can use food from your garden as long as you account for the price of production.
- You cannot accept 'donated' food from others.
- You can count tap water as being free.

4. Cooking for Live Below the Line

Cooking for Live Below the Line can at first seem extremely challenging. What should I buy on this limited budget?

Here are a few suggestions of inexpensive and staple ingredients that you may want to include on your shopping list: Rice, Beans, Chickpeas, Corn, Tomato

Sauce, Noodles, Eggs, Carrots, Onions, Canola Oil, Garlic, Salt, Pepper, Bananas, Pasta, Oatmeal, etc.

FROM APRIL 28TH - MAY 2ND
$1.50 A DAY ON FOOD

5. Fundraising Success

Live Below the Line gives participants a powerful opportunity to share these experiences and raise vital funds for their favorite charities.

6. Fundraising Tips

- Start early. The longer you spend fundraising, the more money you'll raise
- Set a positive example and donate to yourself
- Start by sending an email to everyone you know asking for a donation, just by reaching out you are spreading positive messaging
- Update your email signature by adding a link to your personal fundraising page and a short note saying that you will be living below the line this spring
- Use social media to invite friends to become involved
- Get your workplace engaged. Ask your boss if your company will match your donations
- Tell potential donors why you are passionate about ending extreme poverty and the charity you are supporting. Keep it personal and inspiring
- Thank donors for their generosity on social media in a public way
- Start a team and fundraise together
- Keep fundraising even after the challenge week is over
- Have fun and enjoy the challenge!

SHARE THE STORY OF YOUR EXPERIENCE
AND RAISE FUNDS TO SUPPORT YOUR FAVORITE CHARITY

7. Fundraising Message

Below is a basic campaign message you can use to engage your friends and family.

Don't be afraid to reach out to as many people as possible with a short, informative, and friendly email - even if they don't sponsor you, they can become more engaged in the fight to end extreme poverty just by knowing about your personal commitment!

Dear [Friend/Family/Business owner],

This Spring, I will be taking part in a global poverty awareness campaign called Live Below The Line to raise money for [Fundraising cause], and I would like to ask for [your / Business Name]'s support.

The Live Below the Line campaign invites individuals, groups and communities across the United States, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the United Kingdom to eat on just $1.50 a day, the U.S. equivalent of the extreme poverty line. 1.2 billion people around the world currently live below this line lacking the basic choices and opportunities that most of us take for granted.

From April 28th - May 2nd, I will eat on just $1.50 a day to raise awareness of the challenges faced by these 1.2 billion people, and to support the work of [Organization you are sponsoring]. I would love your support!

[Information about the Project you are fundraising for]

I would really appreciate your support.
Please contact me if you would be willing to be involved.

8. Fundraising Ideas

FUNDRAISING AT WORK

Pay What You Think

Prepare a meal for your office that fits within the Live Below the Line budget of 50 cents per meal. Ask your colleagues to donate what they would have spent on lunch.

Involve our workplace

Ask your workplace to match all donations that you collect. Register your work place to participate in Corporate Challenge Day by emailing LBLUS@globalpovertyproject.com.

Dress Down Day

Ask your boss if, for a donation to your Live Below the Line campaign, you and your colleagues can dress casually for one day.

Hold an Office Cook-Off

Organize an office cook-off so that everyone at work can get behind Live Below the Line. Compete in teams to produce the best possible food within the $1.50 per person budget.

FUNDRAISING WITH FRIENDS

Sell Live Below the Line meals

Organize a day at your office/church/school/university where you offer meals that fit within the Live Below the Line budget. Ask for a donation in return.

Host a Live Below the Line presentation

Get 100 colleagues, faith group members, or friends in a social group together and host the Live Below the Line presentation to learn more about issues of extreme poverty and find out how you can help end extreme poverty within a generation.

Contact us for details:

Host a Live Below the Line dinner party

Create a meal that costs 50 cents per guest. This is a great way to get your friends involved and ask for donations.

9. Social Media

Posting on social media outlets like Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, and blogs is the most effective way to raise awareness and funds for Live Below the Line. Here are some suggestions below to get you started.

FACEBOOK #BELOWTHELINE

- Change your profile picture or header banner to the Live Below the Line logo
- 'Like' the Live Below the Line USA Facebook page
- Thank each donor on Facebook with a personal shout out on your Facebook
- Use Facebook statuses to tell your friends about your campaign. How are you feeling? What are you eating? What have you learned? Remember to keep your posts short and snappy and to use positive statements like "WOW" that draw the eye of the reader
- Post photos to show your friends what you are eating each day for under $1.50. Encourage them to join a fundraising team with you

- Video blogs are a great way to make your experience living below the line more visual and engaging. A simple webcam will suffice for "talk to camera" sessions and most mobile phones now have a video camera facility on them
- Recording your shopping trip, your thoughts about extreme poverty, and other people's reaction to your campaign will make for great blogs of your experience. Live Below the Line has a YouTube channel that can be found at www.youtube.com/user/LiveBelowtheLineUS.

Malin Akerman's interview was on MSNBC and also featured on CNN, MTV and in the Washington Post, Huffington Post, New York Post, and other media outlets.

TWITTER #BELOWTHELINE @LBLUS

Here are a few tips and sample tweets to get started:

10. Local Media

Spread the word about Live Below the Line in your community by getting your local media outlets involved.

Approach your local newspapers, magazines, television stations, and radio stations about Live Below the Line. Call your local stations, tell them who you are and that you live in the area, and then offer to come in for an interview. The contact details for local media outlets should be available online in the 'contact us' portion of their websites. Ask the news outlet to whom they would prefer you send a press release. Be ready to explain the challenge to the reporter.

Here are sample press releases and examples of outreach that may be useful: Many gyms, churches, and social organizations have a group newsletter that is distributed to all members. Editors are always looking for stories and your participation in Live Below the Line is a great story! A submission to an editor needs to be short and concise with the relevant details.

MEDIA PRESS TEMPLATE

Title: Local Puts Convictions on the Line
Location], State, [date]

[FULL NAME] is not content with simply signing a petition when it comes to global poverty. In fact, the [CITY] resident has committed to Live Below the Line and spend just $1.50 each day for a week on food.

From April 28th - May 2nd, [NAME] will be joined by thousands of other people across the country and internationally who are taking the challenge. As a part of the Live Below the Line campaign, every single one of them will be spending just $1.50 each day on food and drink – the U.S. equivalent of the international extreme poverty line.

[NAME] will have no shortage of company – in addition to the thousands taking part in the challenge, 1.2 billion people struggle to meet their daily needs on less than $1.50 a day.

"The scary thing for me was when I found out that living in extreme poverty meant having less than $1.50 to spend in the U.S. Sometimes we think to ourselves 'but $1.50 would go so much further overseas' – but that's not the case" says [NAME] "I couldn't even imagine having to cover all my food, lodging, healthcare and education for $1.50 or less."

[NAME] will Live Below the Line for 5 days to raise money for [NAME OF CHARITY] to help fund the work they do to combat extreme poverty. Previously a student at [SCHOOL], [NAME] thinks education is the most important thing we can do to end extreme poverty, and is looking forward to the challenge of feeding her/ himself with only $1.50 a day. "It's less than half the cost of a bus ticket, so it's going to be hard. But 1.2 billion people do this every day, and have to pay for much more than just food – so I'm sure I'll find a way".

To take part in this unique challenge, sign up on the Live Below the Line website – www.livebelowtheline.org/us. You can sponsor [NAME] at [FUNDRAISING PAGE ADDRESS].

GRASSROOTS MEDIA OUTREACH

Live Below the Line this May

From April 28th-May 2nd, the [NAME] team is getting behind the poverty awareness campaign Live Below the Line to raise funds for [NGO]. Live Below the Line is an awareness and fundraising campaign designed to help people understand the challenges faced by those currently living in extreme poverty.

Live Below the Line challenges people to do just that, and feed themselves with just $1.50 a day – the U.S. equivalent of the international Extreme Poverty Line.

The [NAME] team will be raising funds for a lifechanging education program. You can find out more and sign up at www.livebelowtheline.org/us

11. Have fun!!

Live Below the Line is a life-changing experience. This challenge is a great way for your community to become a part of the movement to end extreme poverty.

By signing up for Live Below the Line you are raising awareness and crucial funds for initiatives fighting extreme poverty around the world.

I've emailed a few different people at NBC already, but happy to email you as well.

Here is a statement for your use from me:

“Hunter Biden is a private citizen and a lawyer. The Vice President does not endorse any particular company and has no involvement with this company. For any additional questions, I refer you to Hunter’s office.”
