[Moving Rob to bcc, so that our teams can coordinate on next steps and details.]

Eva – Many thanks. It is a pleasure to meet you virtually. We look forward to connecting soon and learning more about the Center’s research and work.

Hala and Nina – Can you coordinate with Eva to pull together a call between our teams in the next few weeks?

Best,
Lucian

Thanks for the introduction and interest Rob.

Dear Lucian - just echoing my earlier request to Rob (below), let me know when a good time would be to meet up in the next couple of weeks. I've also added you to the invitation list for our Global Summit and Changemakers Dinner.

Best wishes

Eva

Thanks Eva. I am copying our Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary for Counterterrorism, Lucian Sikorskyj, to follow up and pursue these opportunities. Very much appreciate your reaching out.

Dear Robert

Thanks for connecting on Linked In.

As mentioned, it would be good to meet to discuss research that we have released and coming up in the next couple of weeks, and we'd also like to hear about work that you have underway, including more about the strategies and plans that your team have developed. I've included a bit more about our organisation below.

I'll organise for the invitations to our Global Summit and Changemakers Dinner event to be sent through to you separately, which also have more information about the event - we'd love to see you there.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Best wishes

Eva

About CCDH

The Center for Countering Digital Hate (CCDH) is an international, not-for-profit NGO that seeks to disrupt the architecture of online hate and misinformation. CCDH has been at the forefront of unmasking how online platforms and search engines drive radicalisation, online harm and misinformation. The Center's work combines both analysis and active disruption of these networks. We champion levers for change to increase the economic, political, and social costs of all parts of the infrastructure - the actors, systems, and culture - that support and profit from hate and misinformation (for example, climate change denial, sexual and reproductive health, anti-vaxx, antisemitism, and identity-based hate). You can read more about our recent work here. CCDH is independent and does not receive money from technology companies. We have offices in London and Washington D.C., and connections globally.
